Khrushchev Cuts Off Every Possible Avenue of Aid From Chinese Reds, Except by Sea

Chicago Daily News Service
ROME — Little Albania, with half as many people as Berlin, is getting a taste of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's strangulation technique. By cutting off every avenue of Chinese aid except the slowest — that by sea — Khrushchev prepared minutely for Sunday's withdrawal of recognition.

Albanian fighter pilots, who were being Russian-trained at secret fields in Krasnodar Province on the eastern Black Sea coast, have been sent home.

The strangulation started in the autumn of 1960 when the Albanians begged for Soviet wheat say-

French Give 2 Reasons for Nikita's Talk

Wants Private Talk With JFK, Plus Western Disunity

Chicago Daily News Service
PARIS — Well informed observers in Paris today gave two reasons for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's disquieting speech before the World Federation of Trade Unions in Moscow.

In it he said that he would discuss not only the Berlin problem with Western leaders but wanted the talks enlarged to the whole German question.

Observers here cite these reasons for the speech:

Increased Divergencies

1. Khrushchev tried to increase divergencies among the Western powers by making a speech which would encourage French President Charles de Gaulle in his refusal to consider opening negotiations with the Russians now.

2. The second, and less obvious reason, is that Khrushchev prefers a tete-a-tete meeting with President Kennedy and believes that only through such a meeting can the East and West reach agreement. His speech was designed to convince Washington that there can be no real progress in negotiations as long as the British, French and West Germans must be consulted.

The French are fearful of a "Camp David" type meeting between Khrushchev and Mr. Kennedy in which they see the possibility of new concessions to Russia.

More Difficulties

As a result of Khrushchev's speech, more difficulties are now confronting Western foreign ministers in their meeting which opens here today.

Instead of limiting their talks to the Berlin question, Western foreign ministers and members of NATO council will have to tackle the whole German problem if they want to achieve a united front for future East-West talks.

Although de Gaulle has thought all along that this was the correct procedure, he continues to differ with his allies on an essential point.

There should be no conversations with the Soviets either on Berlin or on Germany according to de Gaulle as long as Khrushchev continues his threats.

8-Year Olds Star in U.N. TV Program

Chicago Daily News Service
NEW YORK — The 8-year-olds are taking over when television visits the United Nations International School here Wednesday (7:30 p.m. CST).

Third grader Jimmy Li, son of a Chinese interpreter at the U.N., narrates the half-hour show described as a strictly "non-controversial" addition to Bell and Howell's "Close-Up" series on ABC-TV.

17 Countries
He introduces boys and girls from some of the 17 countries represented in his classroom.

"I go to the United Nations International School. Of course, most of our parents go to the United Nations," Jimmy explains.

After establishing that spaghetti is an international favorite food among 8-year-olds living in New York, the children get into a short argument about Communism.

Great Big Nothing
Chile, Argentina, Russia, India, Yugoslavia, Norway, Indonesia, Japan, Ceylon, Philippines and West Indies are some of the home countries.

The children indicate that each likes his own country best. Narrator Jimmy Li comments: "Like in most summit meetings, a great big nothing."

John H. Secondari is executive producer of the show which is produced by ABC News Special Products Division.

Death of Dodge County Youth Hikes Death Toll

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two persons, including a youth found dead near his wrecked car early today, lost their lives in Wisconsin traffic accidents during the weekend and two others died of injuries suffered earlier.

The death toll for the year now is 839, compared with 863 at this time a year ago.

The body of Raymond H. Steger, 18, of Theresa, was found near his wrecked car near Lomira in Dodge County shortly after 5 a.m. today. The auto had left a county road some time during the night.

Adam Duj, 38, Milwaukee, died Saturday when his auto was involved in a three car crash on snow-slicked Highway 164 in Waukesha County.

Mrs. Anna Baumann, 79, of Milwaukee died as the result of an accident on a Milwaukee street Dec. 2. Mrs. Baumann was injured Dec. 2.

Harold Rickli, 17, rural Ridgeway, died in a Darlington hospital Friday night of injuries received earlier in the day in an Iowa County crash that took the life of 17-year-old Arthur Cutler, also of Ridgeway.

3-Year Old Couldn't Nap, Saves Brother

BAYFIELD (AP) — Because three-year-old Beth Erickson couldn't get to sleep for her Saturday afternoon nap, her little brother was saved from anything more than minor burns in a fire at the family home.

Beth was still awake when the blaze broke out in an upstairs bedroom. She ran to tell her mother, Mrs. John Erickson, who found 18-month-old Freddie still asleep in his crib, his clothing ablaze.

The infant suffered minor head lacerations. Three died when a train rammed a car which, policemen extinguished the blaze two hours later. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

While Western Diplomats Meet

Border Guards From East Berlin Making Freer Use of Firearms

BY DAVID M. NICHOL
Chicago Daily News Service
BERLIN — As the diplomats assembled in Paris to talk about a settlement, Communist guards along Berlin's wall made freer use this weekend of their firearms than at any time since the city's forcible division on Aug. 13.

One West Berlin resident, a 20-year-old Austrian student at the technical university, was killed and another student was wounded in two separate shootings Saturday.

Sunday night there was a new outburst of machine pistol fire along the Spree River where it forms the East-West border near the old Reichstag Building. The firing apparently was directed at two East Berliners who swam successfully and unhurt through the icy waters to refuge in the West.

Body Recovered
But a few hours later, early this morning Communist police were observed recovering a body a short distance upstream from the locale of the previous shooting.

The Austrian youth, Dieter Wohlfahrt, was killed in an attempt to cut the barbed wire and permit the escape of the mother of a young woman acquaintance.

The East Berlin police announced this morning that the youth had been armed and had fired on the Communist guards.

One of them, the Communist announcement said, was wounded seriously.

West Berlin police said flatly the youth was not armed and had not fired.

The youth was not even warned they said. He was shot in the back as he turned to run.

He admittedly was on the Communist side of the line and West Berlin police and British soldiers watched helplessly as the youth's body was dragged through the wire fence and then allowed to lie for two hours.

In the second incident four youths were walking near the wire when Communist guards opened fire. Martin Sonnabend, 19, was wounded. Both he and a 17-year-old companion were captured and taken away.

East Berlin announced today that this group too had tried to damage the hated barrier.

West Berlin police said this was not true.

At the same time the West Berlin authorities said there is a growing uneasiness and rising tempers among people who live near the border barriers. Without any warning or planning small excitable groups assemble, no longer willing to limit themselves to shouting insults at the Communist guards.

West Berlin police break up these groups as rapidly as they are reported. But the danger of incidents is increasing, they said.

District civil authorities in West Berlin say they also are receiving a growing number of complaints from West Berlin residents of provocative actions by the Communist guards.

Casual visitors often are unaware of this and are liable to challenge and arrest for "violating the borders" of the Communist-held region.

Cost of Arms Race Continues to Grow

Roughly $14,000,000 Spent Every Hour of Every Day

BY JAMES MCCARTNEY
Chicago Daily News Service
WASHINGTON — The world's arms race goes on — spiraling even higher.

Within the last week both the Soviet Union and the United States have announced bigger defense budgets for next year.

In both cases, the other fellow was blamed for the necessity.

What is it costing? What could we all do if it came to an end?

Specific figures on costs are hard to come by, but some generalizations are possible.

Cost Per Hour
Last winter a Washington reporter for the Associated Press sat down to figure out what the world's arms race cost per hour.

That was before the Berlin buildup began—before both sides began to put more billions into their military programs.

The figure he came up with for the hourly cost of arms and armies in the world as a whole: $14,000,000 for every hour, every day.

Together the U.S. and the Soviet Union contributed 73 per cent of the total, as best he could compute — about $8 billion a year.

The figure for next year on the basis of announcements from both sides will be closer to $9.5 billion.

$40 Per Year
This works out to something over $40 a year for each man, woman and child now living.

If the money were to be pooled for peaceful purposes the average annual cash income of 1.3 billion people who make less than $100 a year could be more than doubled.

Housing could be provided for 240,000,000 families in underdeveloped nations — for material for homes in many of the world's poorer countries could be bought for less than $500 a family.

The hungry everywhere could be given more food, the sick everywhere could have better medical care.

If the arms race came to an absolute end — something hardly anyone considers possible — at least 15,000,000 men could stop training to kill and devote their energies to peaceful pursuits.

The Muses Disagree

Most people and poets agree about the seasons. Spring is a great awakening, summer is a ripe joy, autumn is a brisk encounter. But there is little agreement about winter. Opinions about it range from the enthusiastic (the skiers and skaters) through the resigned to the acutely distressed.

Domett wrote of "rude Winter; crabbed old fellow, never merry, never mellow." Thomson decried it as "sullen and sad, with all his rising train — vapours and clouds and storms." Shakespeare once called it "the penalty of Adam" with "icy fang and churlish chiding" although his singers made the best of it.

But other poets sought and found — at least for posterity — a brighter side. Cowper beamed "I crown thee king of intimate delights, fireside enjoyments, home-born happiness." Noel called for singing and drinking so that "from our snug firesides this Christmas-tide, we'll keep old Winter out." An old proverb warns that a green winter means a fat churchyard, presumably to make us more content with the snow and ice. And lady writers, like Frances Anne Kemble, saw the beauty of dying Nature with "a winding sheet . . . o'er her body fair, flaky and soft, from 'his wide wings of snow."

But one poet wrote lines with which the enthusiastic skiers and the grumbling fireside clingers can agree. Said Shelley simply:

"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

Whatever the official date, in Wisconsin winter is here.

'When in the Course of Human Events—'

There have been indignant objections and just as righteous defenses of various loyalty oaths required in some states and for some federal positions. A lawyer in California took out one sentence from an oath he had to sign to become a member of a fire commission and lost the job.

Joseph Longacres' argument is similar to that of an Illinois lawyer whose case was appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court. Longacres is upholding his right to revolution just in case a totalitarian regime gets control in Washington. Longacres, who says he is a registered Republican, is a descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence and it is to that document that he has turned.

"Constitutional law is a hobby with me and I have read the history of military coups, of the Quislings of Norway, of Castro and of others. I am as opposed to the John Birch society and the pseudo-Minute Men as I am to the Left. I feel that every university professor, every policeman, every teacher who signs a loyalty oath would have to resign his post in order to fight a totalitarian government if one should develop in this country."

Mr. Longacres may be tilting at windmills or looking for publicity. He should remember that a lot of the members of the Continental Congress had also sworn to fight for King George. But it would be ironic if a loyalty oath signer would be jailed some day by an American dictator through the correct processes of the courts. In these days of at least some conformity, that right to revolution is a good thing to remember.

Speaking Out is Important

Both President Kennedy and Vice President Johnson recently have criticized the ultraconservatives for what they term a dangerous splitting of opinion in the country in these perilous times. But the United States has thrived upon controversy. And misled or misdirected groups are best exposed by letting them talk.

As we have said before, the rise of a vocal conservative point of view is healthy even though extremists among conservatives are apt to make the entire right-wing appear ridiculous. But extremists, too, have a function, as long as people take the time and effort to think about charges that are made and opinions that are backed. It may seem silly to petition Gov. Nelson not to veto a bill which the Attorney General has ruled as unconstitutional because it is in conflict with United States Supreme Court opinions. But seeing such a petition or hearing about it at least makes some people think about the Pledge of Allegiance, about what Paul Harvey criticized as "seeking salvation in legislation", and about the right to dissent.

The majority of the speakers brought to Green Bay recently by Project Alert said little that was new. But that does not necessarily mean that the project was a failure. The people who attended or read about the meetings had the opportunity to hear confirmations of their points of view or make queries about them. They should at least have come up with the realization that there can be no easy answers to the terrific problems that confront us since none of the speakers provided any.

There always is danger in mob action or appealing to large groups because mobs lose all sense of individual responsibility. Perhaps in a few places where the ultraconservatives draw huge, cheering crowds, they have managed a mass hypnotism that dulls rather than stimulates individual thinking. It is easier, as Harvey intimated, to blame "lousy Communists" instead of "lazy Americans" for our ills. But people in this area do not stampede easily unless the subject is the Packers.

If Act. Incorporated, members and endorsers really want to carry out what had been announced as the original intention — to stimulate thinking and study in the community about the grave national and international dangers — they now should sponsor another series of talks by people with a different point of view — someone from the State Department or a delegate to the United Nations, a representative of the liberal left or the moderate middle. This does not mean equal time for Communists but for those who honestly conceive of a different way of combating communism or who feel that there are even greater dangers in the world.

Controversy and discussion are healthy and important. As somebody pointed out a long time ago, it is better to debate a question without settling it, than to settle it without debate.

No Statue for Committees

When he was a Congressman, Sec. of the Interior Udall developed a dislike for all the memorials in Washington. Now he is sounding off about them again.

He says there are 59 statues, 6 fountains, 22 bridges and 28 miscellaneous memorials to people ranging from presidents to poets. He concedes that things such as the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials are inspirational but he is against the "boulders, gold plated horses, Doric temples and the Japanese pagodas." According to Udall, a lot of them represent ambitious relatives and able fund raisers rather than worth of either the individual memorialized or the sculptor who prepared the image for posterity.

We must disagree with Sec. Udall. Perhaps the usual memorial would be out of place in Arizona's magnificent desert and mountain scenery. But it would seem that the statuary has a definite place and perhaps there even is a need for it in bustling Washington. It provides reasons for parks and benches for the foot-weary tourist and an inscription to read while resting. The statues are the joy of small, agile children and pigeons; a reminder of ages past, a tie to other times, a symbol of the continuity of the nation. What does it matter if the generals are invariably mounted on rearing horses and some sorts of statuary turn green around the edges?

In Washington, it would do most of the bustling, serious, young men good to stop and read the inscriptions, gaze at the flying hooves and the solid cannons. And for Sec. Udall's peace of mind, he can be almost positively assured that no one ever will sculpt a statue of the brisk new government worker and his brief case.

Hoffa Tries To Move in On Airlines

From the Dairy Record

It would seem that Jimmy Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, would have a handful in trying to keep his dissatisfied locals in line. Perhaps it is because he is losing members and also because of his feud with the AFL-CIO that the ambitious Jimmy is moving in on the airlines and has set up a National Airline Division.

Already he has organized the mechanics working for Western Airlines and an all out program has been planned to move into other airlines.

Can Break Strike

Harold J. Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters Union, claims that the real reason for the Teamsters moving into the airline industry is that trucking employers know that they can seriously weaken, if not break, a Teamsters strike, because they can shift a substantial portion of their freight to the airlines.

We think we can give a much better reason than Gibbons and that is that Jimmy likes a big fat treasury and naturally, he loves more dues-paying members. Other than that, any disputes that he can stir up in the airline industry will come before the National Mediation Board rather than the National Labor Relations Board. Jimmy, of course, is not totally happy with the NLRB and some of its decisions.

What Others are Saying

Catholic Bishops' Statement Should be Heeded by All Persons

From Washington Evening Star

The latest annual statement of the Roman Catholic Bishops of the United States constitutes an eloquent warning that deserves to be listened to most carefully by all Americans, regardless of creed, who are adult and patriotic enough to be concerned about the future of their country. For the warning is very much to the point, and nobody with eyes to see and ears to hear can shrug it off, or belittle it, as if it were a comment of minor consequence on a subject of no great importance.

Actually, the subject is truly basic and vast in its significance, and this is so because it has to do with nothing less than the moral health and the moral survivability of our Nation. As the bishops' statement indicates, the problem involved is global in character, and at the root of it "has been the influence of secularism—the banishment of God from public and private life and the enthronement of human nature in His place." A consequence of this, in the statement's words, is that many modern men find themselves "on a lonely eminence of their own making . . . forced to determine for themselves what is good and evil, right and wrong."

As far as our own country is concerned, here is something quite new in our history. Despite certain decisions by the Supreme Court in recent years (such as the one outlawing voluntary interdenominational religious instruction in public schools), the Founding Fathers of our Republic were God-fearing men who believed in the abstract moral law and favored (as did Thomas Jefferson at the University of Virginia) a solid education in religion. Yet today, as the Catholic bishops have asserted, "our national idea no longer rests upon a foundation of broad and solid popular morality. Ignorance of moral principles and the rejection of the very notion of morality are on the rise today and threaten to undermine our Nation and its most sacred traditions." This does not seem to us to be an exaggeration. Anyhow, again to quote from the prelates' statement:

The evidences of our moral decline are everywhere to be seen: In the alarming increase in crime, particularly among the young; in the sensational treatment of violence and sexuality in literature, on the stage, screen and television; in the disclosures of greed and cynicism in government, labor and business; in the stubborn continuance of race prejudice and injustice; in the multiplication of divorce and in the rapid disintegration of the family; in a harsh and pagan disregard of the sacredness of human life . . . This present moral deterioration cannot be interpreted as a mere temporary relaxation of standards . . . The conditions we face are unique; for them, the past gives neither precedent nor guide.

It seems clear enough that in our time, which surely has been one of the most tumultuous in human history, there has been a sort of stupid tolerance of decadence here in America and abroad. Nor can there be any doubt that large numbers of moral illiterates and educated ignoramuses—including some in Hollywood and the publishing world—have poisoned our society with productions equating liberty with license and licentiousness. The Catholic bishops are undeniably right; The United States, not less than the world in general, is in need of a spiritual catharsis that will revive the kind of God-fearing morality that marked its character until relatively recent years. Otherwise, in due course, it may well go the way of the old Roman Empire, declining and falling of its own hedonistic excesses, not with a bang but with a whimper.

Must Spend Foreign Aid Dollars Carefully

From the Progressive Farmer

Congress in the sessions just ended, appropriated nearly $4 billion for foreign aid for next year. Huge appropriations for foreign aid continued year after year can be justified only if they are bringing sizeable results. What we want to do is to make sure that our billions are helping friendly nations solve their economic and other problems in such a way as to bring a better living to their people. Some feel that a large per cent of our foreign aid is being wasted in a fruitless effort to solve world problems.

Foreign aid in reasonable amounts can be justified, if

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Dec. 19, 1861.

By an order of May last, the execution of the law for the suppression of the slave trade was confined to the Department of the Interior.

The Secretary convened the Marshals of all loyal Atlantic States at New York and explained to them all the devices of the traffic. The result of this energy has been the capture and condemnation of five vessels.

One person has been convicted as the captain of a slave and was sentenced to death, the first instance of a capital conviction on record. Another has been found guilty of outfitting a slave (slave ship) at Boston.

Within little more than a year, 4,500 Africans recaptured by our cruisers have been taken into the Republic of Liberia through the agency of the American Colonization Society.

Under the Capitol Dome

It's Been Good Year For Conservation

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Most state agencies dealing with the legislature during this tediously long legislative year, might very well envy the success of the state conservation department in getting most of its major requests written into law.

The legislature has been edgy in its relations with the administrative services this year, and especially on financial matters, as it showed its concern about the difficult fiscal problems confronting it and their constituents' reactions to them.

But the conservation department, nevertheless, has succeeded in improving its finances in a series of strokes that can be called brilliant, in the history of its relations with the legislative branch.

Normally the legislature is not inclined to approve more than one financial favor for the department at a single sitting, and normally it is not prudent for the department to ask for very much more.

This year the department boldly asked for a number of such legislative favors, and to the surprise of the capitol, got most of them.

THE LIST

It won a round of increases in the charges for hunting and fishing licenses, to put tidy increases into its till.

It finally put through a system of direct user taxation for the financing of the state parks, after a decade of apparently futile discussion of the subject, and thus achieved a sensible budgeting support for those increasingly popular facilities that had been operated on a catch as catch can basis for decades.

Most important, it got through the new cigarette tax fund for recreational lands acquisition the tidy sum of $5,000,000 in new money each year for the next 10 years — and there is very little chance that this levy, or any other, ever will be dropped again — for the largest land buying program in its own experience and very likely the most ambitious effort of its kind within any state of this country.

Conservation department legislative liaison men handled themselves well, as the sometimes critical members of their employing commission may not know. There were severe tests of judgment along the way. Legislators came to the capitol last January incensed about the deer management program and determined to do something about it. The department men assigned to the legislature could have tried to stop the legislation, and been beaten badly. They chose to recognize the realities of the situation and to avoid antagonizing legislators they knew would be considering their revenue proposals later. It was a prudent choice.

HISTORICAL RANK

Gov. Nelson has said that the 1961 legislature may very well rank in the history of this era as the "conservation legislature." Taking the record at face value, that very likely will result. There are those skeptics who say that there is no necessary relation between governmental funds disbursed and conservation values achieved, and they may have some justification for their reservations. The conservation department, for example, sometimes seems overly concerned about bookkeeping, as when it insists upon being reimbursed for some of its overhead costs from the cigarette tax fund.

The governor's office in that situation appears to line up with such skeptics, obviously fearing that if the controls are loosened money that was intended as capital will be dissipated.

But on the whole it was a memorable year for this important department, and for the thousands of Wisconsin residents who are more deeply interested in conservation programs than in any other aspect of state affairs.

Christmas Secrecy Aided by Stores

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch

A department store has come up with a scheme for persons who want to keep Christmas gift purchases a secret. Orders are handled only by three of the store's top executives and billing is by phone only, to avoid embarrassing records. This is not likely to affect those of us who have been keeping our Christmas purchases a secret for years. They are such a well-kept secret that we usually don't know what the purchases are ourselves until Christmas Eve, when we make them.

Eichmann Predicted His Fate Before Court Convicted Him

During Trial, Ex-Nazi Official Denied He Was Morally Wrong

BY GARVEN HUDGINS
JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann, 36, found guilty of being a major cog in Nazi Germany's plot to exterminate the Jews, faced his Israeli judges for a verdict he predicted would go against him.

Tried for crimes against the Jewish people, the former Gestapo colonel told the court last July: "I know that I will be found guilty as an accomplice to murder. I know that I face the death penalty and I do not ask for mercy for I am not worthy of this."

Testimony Received
 His three judges have weighed Eichmann's words and the evidence presented in a four-month trial which ended Aug. 14. They have reviewed the testimony of more than 100 witnesses, many of whom pictured Eichmann as a relentless hunter of the Jews who never let up, even when he was standing in the dust of the Third Reich.

Eichmann denied legal guilt for the massacre of six million Jews wiped out in the Nazi program.

Unmoved by masses of documentary evidence and testimony, Eichmann argued he only carried out orders and never acted on his own.

"As for moral guilt, I stand here and judge myself for the part I played," Eichmann declared. "But I do not consider myself legally guilty. I received orders and I carried out orders."

More Than a Cog
 Prosecutor Gideon Hausner repeatedly pressed Eichmann to admit he was more than a cog in the Nazi murder apparatus.

"Admit you helped murder millions of Jews," the prosecutor demanded in cross-examination.

"No. I cannot admit this," Eichmann said. "If carrying out orders led to deportations and if some of these deported Jews met their deaths, then the question must be examined from a legal viewpoint to determine if I am guilty of what happened. On moral grounds, yes, I am guilty."

Eichmann faces sentencing on 15 counts of an indictment charging him with crimes against Jews and against humanity under terms of the Nazi and Nazi collaborators' law adopted in Israel in 1950.

Unsuccessful Challenge
 His counsel, Dr. Robert Servatius, unsuccessfully challenged the right of the court to try the defendant under this law. The West German attorney based his challenge on the fact the law was passed after the events it is designed to punish.

The white-haired Cologne lawyer also challenged Israel's right to try Eichmann on grounds he was forcibly abducted by Israeli agents in Argentina in May 1960.

The court quoted precedents from half a dozen nations in rejecting Servatius' challenges.

A number of legal developments are possible. There may be an appeal to the Supreme Court. If the higher court upholds the judgment an appeal for clemency may follow.

The major Nazi criminals behind the massacre of the Jews—Hitler, Himmler, Heydrich—are long dead.

Nazi Genocide
 But prodded by Hausner and his three judges, Eichmann recited the grim story of Nazi genocide which swept away millions of men, women and children.

He also described in detail, complete with multicolored charts he drew from memory, the labyrinth of the machinery which kept the death mills of Auschwitz, Maidanek, Treblinka, Chelmno and Sobibor grinding through the war.

Eichmann told of trips to Auschwitz and other death centers but repeatedly claimed he was concerned only with timetables and transportation.

Hausner then presented captured Nazi documents he said depicted Eichmann as a man with life and death power who repeatedly rejected appeals—including some from the Nazi Foreign Ministry—on behalf of Jews condemned to the death camps.

Documentary Evidence
 Hausner cited documentary evidence from associates, some still living in West Germany, purporting to show the former Gestapo colonel exceeded even Himmler in pursuing Hungarian Jews after the Nazis ordered a halt in hopes of better terms from the advancing Allies.

Again and again, Hausner returned to the Sassen interviews, growing out of a meeting between Eichmann and Dutch journalist Wilhelm Sassen in a Buenos Aires coffee shop almost five years ago.

Hausner introduced records of the interviews, corrected in Eichmann's own handwriting, in which the defendant portrayed himself as a kingpin in the extermination plot.

Eichmann acknowledged the corrections were his, but explained "we drank quite a lot" during the interviews.

Eichmann is quoted in the Sassen documents as saying he would "jump into my grave laughing, happy in the knowledge that five million enemies of the Reich have preceded me."

In the last stages of his trial, Eichmann offered the defense of Pontius Pilate.

Looking directly at his judges, Eichmann declared: "I did everything in my power not to do this work. I was an instrument in the hands of others; those stronger than me. I wash my hands clean, not in regard to the law, but in regard to my inner feelings."

Summing up his prosecution, Atty. Gen. Hausner said: "The Jewish people, to its great tragedy, were the Nazis' first victim, although there are plentiful signs that if the Nazis had been victorious they would not have been the last."

"What was done to them cries out for justice. I ask you, oh judges of Israel, to render a just and righteous verdict."

Interior Decorating Talent Inspires Dollhouse Hobby

BY JEAN OTTO

"When you have eight children, you don't do much decorating," Mrs. Alfred Oliver, 622 E. Goodall St., explained, "so I can let my imagination run riot in doll houses. Decorating that would cost thousands of dollars in a home can be done for pennies, and what's more, it can be done in just a few hours."

Mrs. Oliver, the mother of four daughters and four sons, has been interested in decorating for 20 years.

For the last year and a half she has been enjoying her artistic bent not only by decorating according to her own tastes, but by creating rooms and entire homes from magazines.

Keeping house for ten people doesn't make her feel tied down at all. Mrs. Oliver is able to perform community service and pursue her own hobbies right at home. And she does it all with great enthusiasm.

Also Designs Furniture

Not only does she plan a room's color scheme, but she has become proficient at making doll size furniture from balsa wood. Her creations are copies of colonial furniture she has seen in reproductions of homes. Some, like the apothecary chest, are relatively simple to make. Others, such as the deacon's bench, are quite difficult and require dexterous fingers and endless patience. But anyone who wants to, Mrs. Oliver says, can make almost any piece of furniture he chooses.

The balsa wood for the furniture is one-sixteenth inch for such pieces as clocks, headboards, the sides of cabinets and hutches. One sixteenth inch dowels are used, except in constructing chairs and tables, when heavier one-eighth inch is used. Model glue is used to assemble the various pieces.

Fabric makes the best wallpaper, Mrs. Oliver has learned. It can be stretched and pulled without tearing, and the choice of patterns and colors is almost endless. Co-ordinated colors can be picked up in carpeting and upholstery.

Carpeting is terry cloth and is attached to the floor with painted gold, makes an appropriate sized waste basket. So does a small bit of cardboard glued to form a circle and covered with a fabric already used in the room.

The fun of a dollhouse, naturally, is not all in the making of it. The little girl who receives such a gift at Christmas, or any other time of the year would be delighted to find a bedroom furnished just as she wants her own to be, complete with canopy bed, desk and dresser. Or a complete copy of her own home would intrigue any child.

Mrs. Oliver has carefully kept patterns of each piece of furniture she has made, including all the furnishings of the red, white and blue colonial home. She plans to make available kits which will contain enough fabric and wood to decorate an entire doll house. Patterns for the wood furniture and instructions for assembling it will be included.

rubber cement. This is also used for attaching fabric to walls and for upholstering furniture.

Mrs. Oliver has found that plastic chairs from variety stores make the best base for upholstered furniture. To cover a chair, select a piece of fabric and cover both the chair and the fabric with rubber cement. When it has become slightly tacky press the fabric to every part of the chair, easing the excess out at parts where seams would normally be. When completely dry trim away excess material at these "seams," being careful not to cut where it covers the chair. The bottom may then be trimmed just above floor level. A long strip, pleated and glued around the bottom of the chair, finishes it neatly.

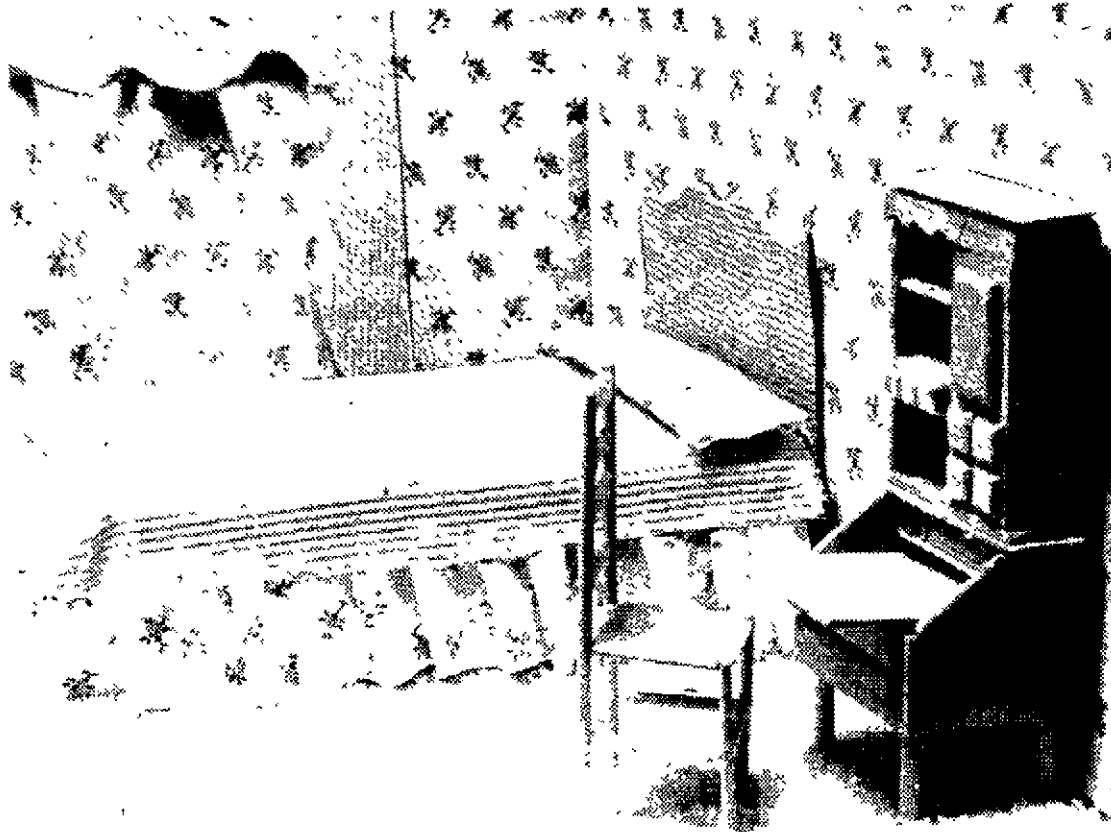

Attention To Details

Ingenuity really comes into play in making a doll house room really look like home. The heads of upholstery nails make charming bows to display on the shelves of a hutch or a kitchen table. Scraps of balsa glued together in a stack and painted with water colors look like books. Shank buttons, shank removed of course, make attractive plates and a concave plastic button painted gold with pearls glued inside makes a delightful centerpiece. Thin strips of balsa glued on a base make a perfect picture frame, as do curtain rings. Pictures can be clipped from gift catalogues.

The top of a toothpaste tube.

This Red, White and Blue colonial home is an adaptation of one from a national home magazine. It is complete to the last detail, including four-poster bed and apothecary chest, comb-back Windsor chair, and kitchen deacon's bench. The hutch is a miniature of a Ford Museum reproduction. The living room is made to 'come alive' with a grandfather clock, yarn bowl and braided rug. The fireplace wall is paneled and lamp bases are made of chess figures. Mrs. Oliver constructed the furniture from balsa wood, one sixteenth inch thick. She says it is very easy to work with, and can be cut with a kitchen knife.

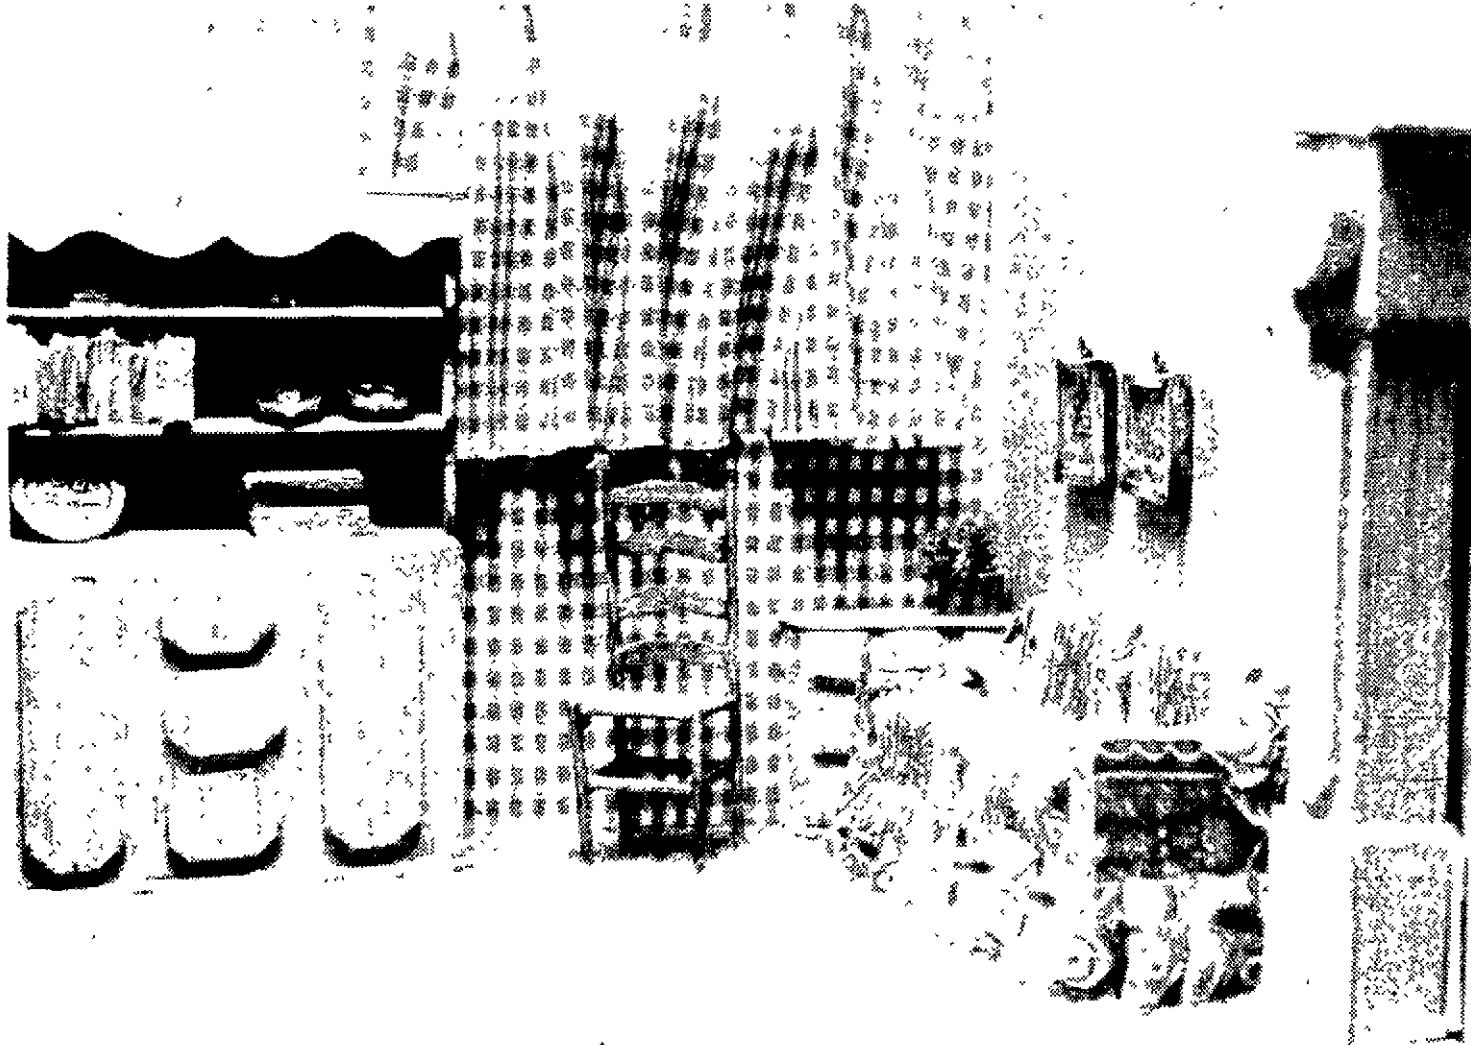

The Bedroom above is in a dollhouse that carries out an entire pink and white color scheme. The headboard, spread and window frame are pink corduroy; the curtains, walls and dust ruffle have pink flowers on a white background, and the carpet is pink terry-cloth. The entire house has the delicate, dainty touch that little girls love. The living room shown at left is done in beige, black and white. The pictures on wall are Currier and Ives prints cut from a gift catalogue, and links from a chain are used as picture hangers. Buttons are made into knick-knacks for the hutch shelves.

Mrs. Alfred Oliver has become skilled at fitting together tiny pieces of balsa wood to make reproductions of colonial furniture. The mother of eight children, ranging in age from 17 to two, says she can give imagination free rein in decorating doll houses. Furthermore, metal doll houses can be taken apart many times for redecorating. Mrs. Oliver puts a small amount of rubber cement on the bottom of each piece of furniture. This keeps it from bouncing around yet permits rooms to be rearranged if the 'homemaker' desires.

What he calls the keynote to his line for spring are parade suits—crisp waist-clinching, brass buttoned jacket suits that fairly boom "Seventy-six Trombones." But under these militant jackets are sleeveless, neckless, nearly nothing at all blouses.

More shock treatment are his "suddenly" skirts sewn on zigzag waistlines. They flip outward like fins on a pretty fish.

SEAMS TO ME

By Patricia Scott

Make Gay Covering

Make your Christmas tree corner exciting! With a little imagination, you can make a skirt to cover the stand and the floor or table on which the tree is placed.

Christmas tree skirts of many different designs can each be made with just one yard of 36-inch fabric and loads of decorations. It's all done with glue, except for a little hand-tacking here or there.

Skirts Simple

The two skirts illustrated are very simple. You can make intricate designs if you have the time. Diamond Skirt (Top): You'll need: 1 yard of red fabric 36 inches wide; a piece of white felt; jingle bells or tiny tree balls; metallic gold rickrack; and mid-dy braid.

To Make: 1. Cut the yard-square piece of fabric into a circle, using the full 36 inches for the circle's diameter. At the center, cut out a circle 3 inches in diameter. This is for the tree trunk.

2. Slit the skirt from one edge to its center so you can fit it around the tree. 3. Cut some 28 to 31 diamonds out of the white felt. Make them any size you wish, so long as they all fit on the skirt. Glue the top half of each diamond to the edge of the skirt all around, with diamonds touching each other.

4. Glue metallic gold rickrack around each diamond. Then glue metallic gold rickrack. Then glue every other diamond, from point of diamond to center hole of the skirt. Tie tiny mid-dy braid bows to each jingle bell or tree ball and hand tack them to center of diamond.

How to Make

Reindeer Skirt (Bottom): You'll need: 1 yard of fabric 36 inches wide; a piece of felt of a contrasting color; metallic gold baby rickrack; gold soutache braid; 9 sequins; 9 tiny bells; narrow satin ribbon.

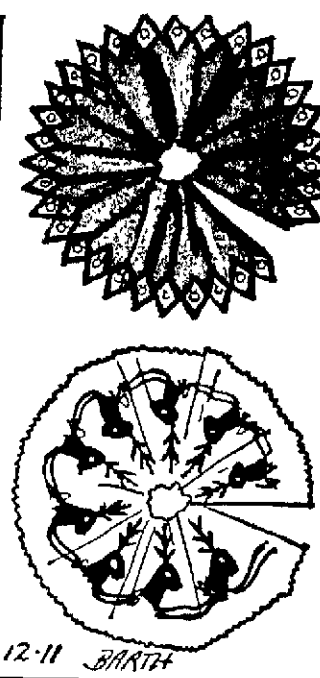

1. Cut the skirt exactly as the diamond skirt is cut, following steps No. 1 and No. 2.

2. Cut 9 felt reindeer heads and glue them in place around the skirt, evenly spaced.

3. Cut 9 antler stems, each 5 inches long and antler branches, each one inch long, out of baby rickrack. Glue antlers and branches in place.

4. Cut reins out of gold soutache braid, and glue them so that they join all the reindeer together.

5. Cut tiny specks of fabric or felt for eyes, and glue one on each

Met Opera Star Blanche Thebom Wed to Doctor

NEW YORK (AP) — Metropolitan opera star Blanche Thebom sang along with Mitch, Marian Anderson, Patricia Munsel and Zinka Milanov last night to marry a distinguished Texas surgeon.

It was one of the most musical marriages the city has seen in a long time without a note of music.

When Miss Thebom walked down the short aisle in the living room of Mr. and Mrs. Mitch Miller's Central Park West apartment and took her vows to love, honor and obey Dr. Albert D'Errico, it was in utter silence. No arias, no wedding march, not even "Oh, Promise Me."

But among those watching, in addition to television's "Sing Along" host and Miss Anderson, Miss Munsel, and Miss Milanov, were a good-sized chunk of the Metropolitan Opera management and other very important personages from the music world.

The 42-year-old opera star and the 57-year-old doctor were married by the Rev. Herman L. Barberry of the Marble Collegiate Church in front of an improvised flower-banked, candle-lit altar.

The bride wore a rose brocade sheath, with matching jacket and a tiny rose-colored veil, and carried a bible that had belonged to her father.

ried a bible that had belonged to her father.

The white-haired doctor, with moral support from his two handsome sons, Albert Jr., of the Air Force, and George, of North Texas University, wore a typical happy bridegroom expression. And the bride's only song was in praise of Dr. D'Errico — "Have you met the groom?" she asked countless wedding guests, beaming proudly.

The Ailing House Floor Leveling Material Aids Appearances

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I have just moved into a recently converted small apartment in an old house. I want to put down linoleum in the small kitchen-dining area but the wood floor is quite irregular. What do you recommend so that the linoleum will lie smoothly and not get cracked and broken?

A: Be sure to nail down any loose boards first. Then apply a composition floor leveling compound, available at floor coverings dealers, applying according to manufacturer's instructions. Or an underlayment of plywood or hard fiberboard can be put down.

Powder Room

Q: We are finishing our basement and converting it into a family room and for convenience would also like to install a powder room in the basement. Our septic tank is large enough to take care of this, but we are advised against the installation because of the drainage. What is your opinion?

A: If the soil pipe and septic tank are above the level of the traps and pipes which would lead from the new powder room, in my opinion, the installation would be impractical.

Beginner's Carpentry Book

Q: Can you recommend a book on carpentry for a beginner and where can it be purchased?

A: I suggest consulting your local library for volumes on the subject. "Carpentry for Beginners," by Charles Hayward, is published by Lippincott ($2.95), an excellent book. Theo. Audel & Co. publish excellent technical guides. Your local book dealer can obtain the books for you, if he does not already have the titles in stock.

Increased Attic Moisture

Q: A year ago a new roof was put over our old roof. Since then, the attic seems to have become more humid, or at least shows signs of dampness, with mold developing on the underside of the roof. What do you suggest to correct this? The attic is unfinished.

A: Evidently, with the new roof the attic became airtight and moisture and humid air could no longer escape. Ventilating louvers should be installed as high up in the gable ends as possible, allowing at least one square foot of lower opening for each 300 square feet of attic floor space, and vents should be provided at the eaves. Woman Asks How to Join Club Other People Want to Leave

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Recently in your column you referred to The Old-Too-Soon, Smart-Too-Late Club. I'm new in town and would like to meet some nice people. Please tell me more about this club and how I can get in.—New Face tion which I formed about five years ago. The membership is composed largely of women who managed to get old too soon and smart too late. The following lines have made many a woman eligible for membership:

1. "My wife's health is very poor right now. I'm afraid of what might happen if I ask her for divorce. Be patient, dear."
2. "Have faith in me. We'll be married as soon as the kids are out of high school."
3. "Have faith in me. We'll be married as soon as the kids are out of college."
4. "Have faith in me. We'll be married as soon as the kids are married."
5. "Mother has a very bad heart. If I marry outside my religion it will kill her. Wait."
6. "I can't see my way financially right now. I should be out of debt by the end of next year."
7. "This arrangement is perfect—why spoil it? Don't we get along much better than the married couples we know, Sweetheart?"

By now I believe you get the drift. If not, the following letter should do it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If I had the courage I'd take the gas-pipe. If someone told me this story I'd say he was crazy, but when it happens to you, Ann, you can think of a million reasons why it's logical and sane.

When I was 22 (14 years ago) I fell in love with a handsome, successful, fascinating man. Jim was ten years my senior—and my boss. He told me his wife was selfish, frigid, extravagant and boring. She spent several months of the year in Europe. Their son went to boarding school. Jim had more clothes at his apartment than at home. We took several "business trips" together and he bought me some lovely furs and jewelry.

This went on for eight years. I never looked at another man in all that time. On my 30th birthday I told him to get a divorce or we were through.

He begged me to wait until his son entered college—just another eight months. I agreed. Then his wife had an operation. He couldn't talk about divorce until she was completely recovered. Next, his father-in-law was stricken with cancer. He couldn't upset the whole family at a time like that.

Three years passed before things settled down to normal. I told him I wanted marriage or we were through for good. These are his exact words: "I'm sorry, dear, but I'm in line for the presidency of the firm and a divorce would ruin my chances. I'll give you $5,000, a plane ticket to New York and I'll see that you get a wonderful job. You're grand person and you'd make some man a great little wife."

There's my story, Ann Landers. Just sign me—Hole in My Head.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Smoking," enclosing with your request ten cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped, self-addressed ETAOIN ETAOINN envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Easy Glitter Glamour

Glitter trimming is easier than ever this year, with a new kind of glitter which squeezes out of a tube along with the adhesive. One step does the trick — adhesive needn't be applied first, then glitter dust sprinkled over it. Gift packages decorate in so many ways with glitter flourishes and dots of it effectively seal ends of wrappings. Names write so easily in glitter, on packages or on cups and glasses. Extra cups needed for holiday party cheer can be the least expensive kind when they glitter with guests' names or poinsettias, and round glasses become candle holders worthy of gift giving with glitter decorations.

The tree ornaments in production here are made of the foil pans fruit and meat pies come in. The large ones are cut flower petal style toward center, and for the smaller, a series of more deeply cut pie pan circles are strung on wire. Glitter dots trim both. (Glamour Glitter by Tie-Tie.)

Mrs. S. R. J.: "Can you tell me how to refinish an old wardrobe which has a walnut finish now, so that it will match some antique white furniture we have? I was told that umber should be used, but do not know what it is or how to use it. Should the walnut be covered with sealer first, or something else before the antique finish is applied?"

Umber is a toner for paint colors that comes in a tube, and it was probably suggested to you to mix with white for the antique white shade to match your furniture. If the furniture now in white is also shaded, around moldings, for example, the umber might also be used in very small amounts to create the same effect on the refinished piece. This is done by applying the dark color and rubbing it off in the right places. Matching a shaded, or glazed antique finish requires more skill than most amateurs are willing to develop sufficient skill for. For steps to prepare wood for refishing, please send 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me at this newspaper for my booklet, "Furniture, How to Do It Yourself."

Mrs. H. W.: "We have a room over our garage which can be entered from the upstairs hall, and we'd like to turn it into a bedroom. There are two groups of three casement windows on the 20-foot west wall, and one group of three on the 10-foot south wall. All windows are ceiling high and look out on a beautiful landscape. We plan to paint and put down

Overseas Filming Seen As Threat to Hollywood

Growing Trend Cuts Into American Production; Movies National Asset

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Much ado about runaways.

Last week's congressional hearing developed some heat but not too much light on the complex matter of American film production overseas. Here is some plain talk about runaways as observed by this reporter at home and abroad.

Q. Has the trend to overseas filming cut Hollywood production drastically?

A. Yes. Of the 38 American films currently shooting, 26 will be made wholly or in part away from Hollywood. Fifteen years ago, less than 10 per cent of American films were shot on location.

Q. Does this make Hollywood a ghost town?

A. No. Employment is at the highest peak in three years.

Q. Then what is all the fuss about?

A. Because high employment is due largely to the 100 TV film series. Theatrical filming is at a minimum.

Q. Why do American film companies shoot abroad?

A. For cheaper costs, foreign subsidies and authentic locales, in that order.

Q. Are films that much cheaper to make abroad?

A. Spectacles are. Hollywood labor has priced itself out of competition in the world film market. American extras get up to $20 a day for doing what the Roman emperor does for $3. Sets are cheaper, too.

Q. How do the foreign subsidies work?

A. Movies made in a country might get a kickback from a box office tax. Foreign films may be taxed or admitted by quota only. Q. Is this unfair competition?

A. Possibly, since the United States imposes no such restrictions, nor does it subsidize its own film industry.

Q. May Be Serious

Q. Is Hollywood's plight a serious one?

A. It is getting to be. Runaway films, TV production and selling real estate have kept the big companies in business. But these are stopgap measures that don't meet the big problem: How to maintain a continuity of film making in America.

Q. Why should we care about this?

A. Because though they often exasperate us, Hollywood and the film industry are a national asset and have won us more friends abroad than all the diplomats of history.

Q. What can be done?

A. By the government—study of the film industry's plight, with possible measures to insure fair competition abroad. By the industry—more leadership and creativity in making the kind of entertainment that made Hollywood great.

Bing Crosby Looks Up Family Tree

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8 (Channel 2) — For outlandish plot reasons, Pete and Gladys move to an apartment to-night. And most of the fun here involves the next-door neighbors, who are never seen. But the film's walls are so thin that their voices are crystal clear, and the conversation between the Porters and the neighbors is very funny. Allen Jenkins and Sandra Gould are the voices of the neighbors.

7:30-8 (Channel 4-5) — One of the most appealing prizes yet offered on The Price Is Right will be the object of the contestants' greed tonight. It's an island, with a new house and a cabin cruiser for commuting. The several-acre piece of escapist real estate is located in the Florida Keys. (Color)

8-9 (Channel 11) — The Bing Crosby Show is a variety hour with a slight but helpful plot. Bing is in England, theoretically engaged in a hunt for his ancestors. And the Road to Zanzibar, as this show might be subtitled, is a happy one. Along the way, Bing works with Terry-Thomas and singers Marion Ryan and Shirley Bassey in sets which represent points of interest such as Ye Old Treacle Tart Tea Room, Somerset House, an English street, a courtroom and, finally, Crosby Head, a pub. There is some delightful comedy and plenty of songs.

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — For the first time, 67th Precinct leaves the squad room for its story to-night. Detective Carella (Robert Lansing) is off-duty, attending the wedding of a friend (Darryl Hickman). Somebody has been threatening both bride and groom, and Carella sets out to discover the culprit.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Sheriff Andy and Deputy Barney, the continuing clowns on The Andy Griffith Show, are invited to attend an exclusive club. If they pass the inspection, they will be asked to join, so, of course, Barney (Don Knotts) figures he has to get Andy to shape up.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — His fiancée, still in Hawaii with his hennessy, takes tonight off to sight-see the island. Jackie Cooper and Abby Dalton disagree on methods of seeing sights; she's all for a detailed itinerary, he prefers just getting in a car and going. So they do it his way — at first.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Joan Hackett, one of the fastest rising young actresses, walks away with Ben Casey tonight. She plays an epileptic (although they carefully refrain from mentioning it) who has never told her husband what her problem is. After an accident, Casey tells her she must give her husband the truth.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — If you get any thrills out of Thriller tonight, the credit belongs to make-up man Bob Don. His assignment: turn Tom Hennessy into a "familiar." (This is black magic terminology for a walking dead spirit searching for a body.) Don created a foam rubber mask which, as he says, makes Hennessy look like "a blob with only a mouth."

10:20-12 (Channel 4-5) — Hugh Downs is host of the Jack Paar Show with Betty Johnson as guest. (Color)

American Rock 'n Roll Singer 'Sends' French Admirers Into Frenzy

PARIS — Current rock 'n roll idol of Paris fans is a young American named Vince Taylor who sports a top-toe leather outfit and "sends" her admirers to the point that police have to be called to cool down the frenzy.

French officials are trying to find an answer to all this enthusiasm. Maurice Papon, the Paris prefect of police, who is confounding at this moment with enough problems, wants to keep the stars and their fans as widely separated as possible.

He refused permission for Miss Taylor and French singing star Johnny Halliday to appear at an annual St. Catherine ball.

French psychiatrists are divided on the merits of rock and roll. While some contend that it provides an outlet for frustrated youth, others believe that it is a return to "primitive" instincts brought about by the fear of atomic extermination.

One solution that has been suggested is the revival of the tango. Paris is re-living it in night clubs and the youngsters are taking to it with the same enthusiasm as when Rudolph Valentino introduced it in their grandmothers' time.

Actress Natalie Wood inscribes her signature in wet cement alongside her hand and foot prints in front of Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood. She became the 138th film star to achieve this Hollywood version of immortality in the 34 years since the practice began.

Ready for Holidays

Reviewer Casts Jaundiced Eye on Early Tennessee Williams Fare

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Paramount and Warner Bros. are supplying their own brand of cheer for the holiday season—films from early Tennessee Williams works.

They may be early, but the standard Tennesseans are all there: the frustrated, middle-aged women, the sex-minded, insensitive younger men, the dotty mothers, the stern fathers, the rapacious townspeople.

You know—the kind of people you meet in everyday life. From 1937 Novel

"The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone" is the more artful of the two offerings. It was adapted from Williams' early (1937) and only novel, which somehow anticipated "La Dolce Vita."

Mrs. Stone is a fiftieth, widowed stage star who goes to Rome to forget or find herself or something. She gets involved with a crone who acts as a kind of casting agent between Roman boys and rich, middle-aged American women. The result: a flaming romance between Mrs. Stone and the flowy, no-good Paolo.

The flaw in the fable is Vivien Leigh, but only because she is so good. One cannot imagine a woman of her beauty, taste and sensibility throwing the key to her apartment to a youthful stranger.

The major assets of the film are some striking shots of Roman scenery and the promise shown by Jose Quintero, already one of Broadway's best directors.

"Summer and Smoke"

The other entry in the holiday festival is "Summer and Smoke," which offers the more native to forget or find herself or something. She gets involved with a crone who acts as a kind of casting agent between Roman boys and rich, middle-aged American women. The result: a flaming romance between Mrs. Stone and the flowy, no-good Paolo.

In this case, the heroine gets kissed and sighs, "I'm beginning to feel like a water lily on a Chinese lake." She usually prefers her remarks by "I do declare," and her lifelong next-door neighbor calls her "Miss Alma."

He scoffs at her aloofness and declares, "There's another person inside you, dying to be freed."

If you have been exposed to the Tennessean art, you may feel you have covered this territory before. You're right. Though Gertrude Page is a gifted actress, there's little she can do to make the cheerless old maid interesting either to the young doctor next door or to the movie patron.

Nor can Laurence Harvey do much with the doctor, who turns from libertine to idealist in an unconvincing conversion.

Stamp Collectors Await Jamaican Independence

BY JAMES REFSQUARD

Post-Crescent News Service

Philatelic news continues to be made for collectors of British Commonwealth or specialized British collections. The most important development in the last few months seems to be the future of the West Indies Federation.

A reliable collectors society in London reported recently that discussion underway in that city may mean a change in the independence date of Jamaica—one of the most populous and wealthiest of the West Indies Federation—action which would greatly affect planned postal issues.

It was reported that pressure was being put on in Jamaican circles to withdraw from the Federation and for the island to seek independence next spring along with the Federation.

The land "down under" got into the Christmas act early this year when Australia floated its annual Christmas issues depicting the Nativity scene. The five-pence brown adhesive shows an open prayer book with the birth scene on the left and the words "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace."

On the right, The Norfolk Island post office, several weeks later, issued the same design in gray-blue color but with the same denomination.

The rectangular stamp also was issued to help celebrate the 350th anniversary of the first publication of the English translation of the King James Bible which went to press in 1611.

India will wind up its philatelic activity for the year Dec. 14 and Dec. 25 with a 15 np and 90np value issue commemorating the centenary of the archeological survey of India hitting the Christmas day with a 15np adhesive commemorating the birth centenary of Pandit Mahan Mohan Malviya.

Earlier issues commemorated Children's Day, the centenary of scientific forestry and the Indian Industries Fair.

From the "Dark Continent" comes the Rhodesia and Nyasaland will issue three new stamps early in February next year to commemorate the 30th anniversary of inauguration of air mail service from Rhodesia to London.

The designs will feature a Hercules aircraft on a strip in Rhodesia, an Empire flying boat taking off from the Zambezi River, and a Comet aircraft on the Salisbury Airport.

The Republic of South Africa will commemorate the 50th anniversary of the first airmail flight to that nation with a three-cent adhesive due to hit the market Dec. 27. The stamp will feature the Blériot airplane used in 1911 and the latest jet used to transport mail in the area.

Korean Conflict Veterans Will Receive Policy Dividends

More than $683,700 in special dividend checks are in the process of being mailed to more than 9,320 Korean conflict veterans in Wisconsin who hold "W" type government insurance policies, J. P. Cullen, VA regional manager, announced today.

The mailing of these special dividend checks is expected to be completed by the middle of December, he said.

Other Korean veterans who have not yet converted nor exchanged their government "RS" insurance for the "W" type policies will also become eligible for special dividend checks if they convert or exchange before the time limit, September 14, 1963.

World War I and World War II veterans are not included in the present dividend distribution. They hold either United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) or National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) and have already received regular dividend payments this year plus a special dividend payment.

The average dividend being mailed to "W" policyholders will be about $72, depending upon the amount of the policy and the length of time it has been in force.

Each of the remaining "RS" policyholders will receive a letter from VA within a few weeks explaining the advantages of changing to "W" type policies.

The "RS" insurance was issued to Korean conflict veterans discharged between April 25, 1951, and December 31, 1956, as five-year term policies not eligible for dividends. The new type "W" policies which are eligible for this dividend, were established in January, 1960, and methods of conversion or exchange to either a permanent plan or a year plan were announced at that time.

"W" insurance, Cullen emphasized, is non-participating and, therefore, not eligible for regular dividends. Under a bill signed into law Sept. 13, 1961, the special dividend now being paid is drawn from a surplus which was built up in the non-participating "RS" insurance fund. There will be no further payments.

Lawrence Says Kennedy Didn't Keep Promise To the N.A.M.

President Failed To Warn Unions About Wage Spiral

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy may wonder at times why his administration is so frequently referred to as "anti-business."

He need wonder no longer. For while the President promised the National Association of Manufacturers last Wednesday in a speech at New York City that the next day in talking to the AFL-CIO convention he would "stress" the importance of holding down wage costs as a factor in price stability, he failed to do so. Indeed, his own Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, later "interpreted" Mr. Kennedy's brief and incidental remarks before the AFL-CIO as meaning that demand for increased wages — and even strikes — were justified if based on "productivity."

Now most businessmen know from experience in labor negotiations that "productivity" is not really based very much on any increase in individual efficiency but is conveniently calculated nevertheless by labor-union economists to include substantially all savings made by new machinery and equipment. Theoretically some of the economies due to better machinery should be divided three ways — to the consumer in lower prices, to the stockholders in the form of earnings, and to labor in the form of increased wages. But customarily the labor unions demand almost all of the savings, and that's what they mean by "wage increases based on increased productivity."

Failure to Keep Promise

The President's failure to keep his promise to the N.A.M. and Secretary Goldberg's speech before the AFL-CIO may prove to be a turning point in Mr. Kennedy's political fortunes. Unfortunately, the President did not come to grips with the extremism of labor-union leaders at a crucial moment in the economic history of the United States when a serious readjustment in the form of a recession or depression next year could retard America's growth and increase unemployment.

The President raised high hopes at first when he talked severely to the businessmen at the N.A.M. about restraints in prices and promised to speak as forthrightly to the labor unions. Here is what he said to the N.A.M. convention last Wednesday:

"Labor, too, has its responsibility for price stability, and I shall stress this tomorrow in addressing the AFL-CIO."

But the next day Mr. Kennedy, in the course of a long speech at Miami before the labor union convention, discussed largely what his administration had done for labor and would continue to do. He made only a brief reference to the subject of price stability and he directed this to both labor and management. A stenographic record of what he said — as given out by the White House — follows:

"I am hopeful that management and labor will recognize their responsibility to permit us to compete, that those of you who are in the area of wage negotiation will recognize the desirability of us maintaining as stable prices as possible, and that the area of productivity and stable prices — that your negotiations will take adequate calculation and account of this need for us to maintain a balance of trade in our favor. In the long run it's in the interests of your own workers."

But this comment puzzled the unions, and hence Secretary of Labor Goldberg the next day in his speech to the same convention undertook to amplify it as follows:

"If we are going to keep the economy going on a sound non-inflationary basis, wage increases over-all should be earned by increasing productivity."

Room for Advancement

Mr. Goldberg then immediately declared that this did not mean wages should necessarily be stabilized. He pointed out that the formula provides "plenty of room for advance in this highly productive country."

Now it so happens that in his prepared speech Mr. Goldberg had urged labor to abandon "make-work" practices and he also explored "a squeeze on business profits," but he omitted all this on delivery. He later explained to inquiring reporters that he did so just because he didn't have time. But Bernard Rossiter, staff reporter of the Washington "Post," telegraphed afterward from the Florida convention hall these observations:

"But however careful the secretary was of the touchy union leaders' sensibilities, his remarks added muscle to the softer version of the wage restraint message that President Kennedy carried here yesterday."

"Organized labor is preparing to ignore President Kennedy's plea for wage restraint and declare that substantial pay increases are needed to quicken the pace of economic growth."

Perhaps the best summing up of the damage done by the President's failure to speak out forcefully on the wage issue is contained in the following paragraph in a New York "Times" editorial on Sunday:

"If the end effect of the President's campaign for voluntary holding of the price line is to throw all the responsibility on industry, Mr. Kennedy will undo all the efforts he has been making to persuade the business community that he does not apply a double standard to business and to labor."

When, it may be asked, is America going to be blessed with a national leadership that eschews the politics of pressure groups and really champions the national interest? When, moreover, are recessions and depressions going to be nipped in the bud? A President some day who learns how to get across the doctrine that in America "there is enough for everybody's need but not enough for everybody's greed" could find himself an easy winner of re-election.

Power Firm Makes Highest Tax Payment

City of Appleton To Get $136,946; Gain of $11,724

The largest property tax payment in the history of Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has been made to the state treasurer in Madison. The payment, in which Appleton and Outagamie County will share, amounted to $766,387.50, over 9 per cent more than last year's record payment.

Under the present system of apportionment, Appleton will receive $136,946 or $11,724 more than last year. This makes the company, once again, the largest single contributor of property tax to the city. The money which has been paid to the state will be distributed to other local units of government in which the utility has property.

Outagamie County will receive $64,281 as its share or $5,651 more than last year. The increase in taxes reflects levies on the power company's added investment in city and county during 1961. Of the total tax payment, the State of Wisconsin will retain $114,958.

Unit Shares

In all, 12 counties, 101 towns, 12 villages, and 11 cities receive a share of the power company's tax payment. Government units in this area that will receive shares and the amount each receives are: City of Neenah, $59,109.61; City of Menasha, $17,574.66; Town of Grand Chute, $14,082.18; Greenville, $3,022.44; Seymour, $3,743.96; Hortonville, $2,791.69; Kimberly, $13,731.15; Combined Locks, $1,172.70; Hilbert, $1,388.63; Freedom, $3,340.01. All other towns, cities, and villages served by the company in Outagamie, Calumet, Winnebago, and Brown counties will receive proportionate amounts.

In commenting on this tax payment, Mr. G. A. Schmidt, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, said: "although property taxes constitute a large part of the firm's total tax bill, this year the Company will be paying close to 4 million dollars for all tax purposes. The figure takes on added significance since it exceeds the amount we pay in wages."

Dr. Hugo Marple head of Stevens Point State College music department, has no difficulty remembering that this year will be the sixth annual presentation of the Messiah by the college. Six years ago he was the program conductor. His daughter, Karen, chose 6 a. m. of that day to get herself born, after long and sleepless hours for her pacing father. That night the college choir sang lustily and well for their conductor as a campus tradition was born. The sixth annual Messiah will be sung at 8 p. m. next Sunday.

Three Alternatives

Tax Situation Still Muddled

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Eleven wearying months after they convened, the state legislators of Wisconsin are back where they started on the difficult, unpleasant, politically hazardous but vital problem of Wisconsin tax reform.

The developments of the week, including the defeat in a test vote of Gov. Nelson's "last word" compromise on the subject, may show that the subject is unmanageable under the system of divided political rule that is installed at the capital. But it is characteristic of the cloudy situation that even such a conclusion must be an uncertain one.

There now appear to be three possible solutions to the historic revision issue — which is perhaps the most important legislative struggle of the last half century — but each of them is about equally uncertain:

1. Gov. Nelson may pick up half a dozen votes among his own nominal Democratic followers in the assembly to permit the revision of his defeated selective sales tax and income tax increase bill, and to permit its enactment without the aid of a substantial minority of Republicans who have shown they are willing to form a coalition with the Democrats.

2. The Republican majority of the assembly when it returns Monday, may be able to put together its own majority for a re-enactment of a general sales tax, without income tax increases, which Gov. Nelson vetoed last summer.

3. The revision cause may be abandoned in a stalemate, which would put the issue inextricably into the legislative and gubernatorial elections next year, and submit it to a referendum in effect. Meanwhile, the state would ruddle through its current deficit crisis through "temporary" levies, almost surely involving a higher rate of personal income surtax than a majority of state's taxpayers have ever experienced.

Not Liked

Nobody really wants the third alternative. Gov. Nelson has gone so far as to say the state should work for the elimination of the surtax altogether. Most Republicans condemn the device. Republican legislative leaders believe that Democratic legislators are of the governor's tax dilemma or, also, and that the fear may ultimately persuade them to vote for other tax alternatives.

The 20 per cent surtax that was levied last year has temporarily lapsed, pending the tax revision deliberations. The state deficit that is in prospect is so large that if no other taxes are enacted, the 20 per cent surtax will be reenacted and raised to a minimum of 45 per cent, and perhaps 50 per cent. That would mean that every personal income tax assessment in the state would be raised 50 per cent.

Some Speculate

Some observers speculated that the Republican maneuver may be intended to invite the governor to bargain on concessions in the sales tax measure, such as working against Nelson's acceptance of a straightforward sales tax — in spite of his considerable concessions thus far in the form of selective sales tax proposals — is the evidence that his own political party organization is dangerously divided on the surtax question.

Many local Democratic politicians, unfamiliar with the details of the state's fiscal needs, are resentful because the governor has virtually thrown away what they regard as the most effective campaign issue state budget deficit this year.

No Precedent

Such a repudiation by a legislative political group of its own party's titular leader is without precedent in the modern history of legislative politics. A parallel problem in executive leadership was in the 1953 legislature, under solid Republican control.

Gov. Walter Kohler, Republican, wanted legislative reapportionment. The Republican legislature didn't and bitterly resented Kohler's commitment. But it followed him.

But Democrats are no more certain than their Republican legislative adversaries about what Nelson may do if another Republican sales tax bill is dumped on his desk.

Assemblyman Robert Huber of West Allis, Democratic floorleader in the lower house, repeatedly during the week warned Republicans that Nelson would veto any revision bill that did not carry a provision for the withholding of income taxes.

A withholding provision was absolutely indispensable and could not be bargained for under any circumstances, under pain of a veto, Huber said flatly.

But as the lower house recessed for the weekend, Huber taunted the Republicans on their sales tax plan — without such an out-right threat of a veto.

"I'm not threatening," he said. "Go right ahead if you want to be subservient to the Chamber of Commerce." he scoffed across the room to the GOP bloc.

But he did not say that Nelson would not accept a sales tax, if finally convinced that it was the only means of attaining tax revision and a bridging of his state budget deficit this year.

Shelter Survey Set for State

New Civil Defense Council Will Hear Plans Wednesday

Details of a major federal fallout shelter survey in Wisconsin will be announced Wednesday in Madison at the initial meeting of the governor's new Civil Defense Council.

A statement of policy on non-military defense in Wisconsin also is expected to come out of the meeting.

The fallout project involves locating, identifying and later stocking with food, water and emergency supplies existing facilities such as buildings, mines and caves that have a minimum capacity of 50 people and a protection factor of at least 100.

Sen. Gerald Lorge, R., Bear Creek, and Mayor Roman Dennis of Green Bay, are members of the 21-man council.

Capt. L. E. Root, of the Navy bureau of yards and docks, is in charge of the fallout shelter project in Wisconsin and will speak at the meeting.

The survey will be conducted by architect and engineer firms under contract to the federal government. A team will study each of six districts in the state.

William K. Chipman, director of the Wisconsin Civil Defense bureau, will speak on the federal and state nonmilitary defense programs for 1962.

11 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Most Store Owners Say This Year's Sales Comparable to '60

Christmas shoppers in the Fox Cities worked about as intensely last week as they have since the day after Thanksgiving. But the last minute frenzy has not yet set in.

Most store operators questioned today said sales since last Monday were about even with those of the first two weeks of yule buying and a little ahead of 1960's pace. Some, however, said business was steadily increasing and some said it fell off last week.

A number of retailers thought the first real chilly spell Friday and Saturday kept buyers at home. Others felt the night openings have not yet reached their full potential.

Reports Slack-Off
Sears Roebuck and Co. in Appleton was one of the outlets that reported a slack-off Friday and Saturday. Its Thursday night opening has not been good as Monday and Friday. Over the whole season, buying "has not been up to expectations" and has been below 1960.

In the suburbs, Treasure Island's sales were "about the same as those of the first two weeks" and performance at W. T. Grant in Valley Fair Shopping Center was better than the first two weeks but "not up to snuff" compared to 1960. Treasure Island was "quite happy." Traffic there has decreased, but sales have remained the same, officials said. W. T. Grant officials felt business would increase as Christmas gets closer.

Uerman T. Runtle Co. Inc., Kaukauna, had an "excellent Friday," a "very good" Saturday, sales better than those of 1960, and "in-

Permit Granted For Small Lanes

Construction of Bowling Alley Set for Menasha

MENASHA — A building permit has been issued to R. C. Bridges for a 10-lane miniature bowling alley at 332 Ahnaip St. Bridges withdrew his application earlier to the board of appeals for permission to build a slightly larger miniature bowling alley on the abandoned right-of-way of Chestnut Street.

The building will stand immediately east of the Patio Restaurant owned by Bridges. He had applied to build it west of the Patio, placing it less than 40 feet from the new St. Patrick parish convent.

The 10-lane bowling alley building will be of steel sheeting 50 by 72 feet, with the narrow dimension facing Ahnaip Street. Permit valuation was listed at $14,345.

Last month Bridges' application for a permit was denied by Building Inspector Allen E. Merrill because the proposed building would have been on lot lines without the required setbacks. Bridges applied for a permit to the board of appeals.

The building as planned will have the necessary setbacks and side yard clearances. Last week, Bridges received a bowling alley permit.

Merrill has issued the 49th new home permit of the year to Robert Mueller for a duplex at 400-404 Mantowee St. Last year at this date 58 permits had been issued. The 1½-story duplex will be 42 by 28 feet, of frame construction and estimated at $10,000.

Judge Cane Will Seek Court Post

Menasha Jurist Plans Campaign for Circuit Court Job

OSHKOSH — Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane, 200 Lake St., Menasha, today announced he is a candidate for judge of the Circuit Court serving Winnebago and Calumet counties.

Circuit Judge H. F. Arps, 14 years and must retire at the end of May, 1962, has filed his term of office continues until Jan. 1, 1963. Judge Arps will become 70 years old in May and must retire at the end of that month, according to state law.

Judge Cane, who has practiced law in Menasha for 24 years, was appointed Municipal Judge by Gov. Nelson in July of 1960, succeeding the late Judge S. J. Luchsinger. He was elected last April to be judge of County Court Branch No. 2 under the court reorganization law for a 6-year term. He was unopposed.

Judge Cane served 10 years in the legislature as an assemblyman during which he had a major role in the revision of the children's code, the criminal code, the motor vehicle code and the family code. He also was a legislative representative on the judicial council which was instrumental in drawing up the court reorganization law.

Last week he was named representative of the state criminal judges on the state judicial council.

Support Huber Law

Judge Cane said that during his term as Municipal and Juvenile Court judge he has favored greater use of the Huber law to permit persons, especially those charged with non-support, to work outside during the day to raise money to support their family and to spend their evenings in the jail.

He also was active in cooperation with the city of Appleton.

OSHKOSH — Henry Vanderheyden, 19, 830 Chapman Ave., Neenah, pleaded guilty of truck theft. Sentence was deferred by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane until Jan. 3.

Vanderheyden was released in the custody of his attorney and without bond until then.

Judge Hopes Sentence Will Teach Lesson

OSHKOSH — Leland A. Leeman, 17, 1642 Delaware St., Oshkosh, today was sentenced to 30 days in jail by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane. Leeman admitted loitering Sunday night in an Oshkosh beer bar.

Leeman said he had had eight or nine glasses of beer in 90 minutes.

Oshkosh police said they had picked him up a month earlier for drinking and had released him after a reprimand. Judge Cane told Leeman he hoped that while he was in jail he would have the chance to observe what drink can do to people.

Boxes of Sand Out For Motorists' Use

NEENAH — The street department is meeting the challenge posed by slippery weather by placing boxes containing gravel neenah Avenue in Neenah where Vanderheyden was employed.

Center Valley Group Demands Special Meeting

Demands for a special meeting of the Center Valley Co-operative led to a demonstration at the co-op's office this morning.

About 30 members of the protesting group blocked the main entrance to the offices at route 2, Black Creek. Members of the group parked a pickup truck in the center of the driveway and stopped traffic going into the plant.

Customers were permitted to enter.

"We're not stopping anyone from entering. We're just stopping traffic and telling our side of the story," said Raymond Coenen, route 2, Kaukauna, spokesman for the group.

Claim 500

Members of the protesting group, who claim 500 of the co-op's 1,800 members, are asking for a special meeting of the co-operative. The protesters claim that the co-op is losing money.

"We had a $10,000 loss. If this keeps up we won't have a co-op any more," said one of the group.

Customers were entering and leaving the co-op's office, and trucks left without incident.

Co-op manager Clifford Behnke refused to comment.

"I'm not in a position to give you any information at this time," he said this morning.

The group was also protesting the firing of two long-time co-op employees, Russell Laird and Tony Diemerle. Both had worked for the co-op for more than 20 years, the group said.

"They were fired for no reason at all," Coenen said.

Board members were not available for comment.

Office workers at the co-op reported less business than usual, although they said Mondays were usually slow.

2 Optical Firms, Vice Presidents Are Re-Indicted

Previous indictments brought against Bausch & Lomb Inc., of Rochester, N.Y., and the American Optical Co. of Southbridge, Mass., under the Sherman anti-trust law were dismissed recently by U.S. District Judge Robert E. Tehan.

Industrials Pace Market In Busy Day

Strong Investment Demand Causes Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrials moved forward in response to strong investment demand and gave the stock market a substantial gain despite some profit taking early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.10 at 266.20 with industrials up 1.40, rails up .20 and utilities up .80. Gains of fractions to a point among pivotal issues outnumbered losers in the same range.

Steel Active

Steels, motors and some oils were bought heavily, reflecting institutional interest. The leading tobaccos, some airlines and rails also improved.

The picture was spotty among chemicals, electrical equipments, nonferrous metals and drugs. Reports of continuing strong demand for steel combined with general optimism among market analysts as background factors in the advance.

American Telephone touched a new high at the opening and belatedly it as the session went on, showing a gain of well over a point. Irregularity prevailed among other utilities. Houston Light & Power added around 4.

Xerox added more than 7. Woolven ran up more than 2. Woolven advanced 2.

Merck spurted about 3 while other drugs were unchanged to lower.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.32 at 731.55. Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in heavy trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed slight change in quiet trading.

Spring Road Will Decide on School Question Tonight

District Residents to Vote on Whether to Build High School

MENASHA — Residents of the Spring Road School District will decide at 8 p.m. tonight whether to form their own high school district or to join with a district now operating a high school.

A special meeting of all residents has been called by the school board to discuss and vote on that question.

Osiewalski to Head Falcons For 3rd Term

Leader of Polish Group Also Serves As Clubhouse Head

MENASHA — Paul Osiewalski Sunday was reelected president of the Polish Falcons Athletic Association at the group's annual meeting.

Osiewalski, who has completed two terms, also is manager of the clubhouse.

The club was founded in 1914 with 43 members as Polskie Sokol International 567. It discontinued the affiliation in 1922.

Last year's annual meeting was held in the new clubhouse on Fourth Street while the building was incomplete.

Treas. Joseph Nadolny was reelected to his 16th consecutive term. He was first elected in 1946.

Reelected officers also were Alfred Zielinski, vice president; Leo Rappert, recording secretary; Ben Pawlowski, athletic director; Adolph Teitz, sick committee chairman; Walter Sokolowski, house committee chairman; and Carl Akstulewicz, auditor.

Elected were Richard Ziolkowski, financial secretary, succeeding John Kolakowski; George Smarzynski, auditor, succeeding Alvin Danoski; and George Jedwabny, sick committee financial secretary.

Two years ago, members voted at the annual meeting to replace the old clubhouse, erected in 1916. Last April, the new clubhouse was dedicated.

'Musicale' Presented

OSHKOSH — The music department of Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, presented its annual Christmas Musicale in collaboration with the women's physical education department in the lounge of Reeve Memorial Union Sunday afternoon.

Should the district decide to establish its own high school district, it has three years in which to complete its organization and build a school, John J. Murphy, school district clerk, explained.

High school age students now attend Neenah High School on a tuition basis.

File Petition

A petition signed by 233 persons has been filed with the school board asking for a vote on the question of creating a high school district for that part of the Town of Menasha west of Little Lake Butte des Morts.

Another petition has been reported to be in circulation, asking the county school committee to dissolve the Spring Road School District and attach it to the Neenah school system.

Proponents of the district forming its own high school district have suggested that other rural areas could join with them in the high school operations. Among areas cited as possibilities are a part of the Lakeview School District on the Towns of Neenah and Vinland, a part of the Clayton School District and possibly part of the Badger School District of the Town of Grand Chute.

Member Named To Municipality League Group

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — Arnold H. Klentz, mayor of West Allis and president of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, has announced the appointment of Mayor Roman P. Denissen of Green Bay as a member of the league's executive committee for a two-year term.

Klentz has also reappointed Mayor Joseph F. Bayorgeon of Kaukauna as chairman of the utilities committee of the organization and Mayor Stanley Greene of Sturgeon Bay as chairman of the league committee on finance and taxation.

Renamed district vice presidents included City Manager Robert Broucek of Two Rivers, Mayor Von J. Maes of DePere, Village President Paul Kostka of Little Chute and Mayor Carl W. Hofmeister of Chilton.

Noted Author Appears At College Lecture

OSHKOSH — Henry A. Kissinger, executive director of Harvard University's International Seminar, will appear at Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, as the second speaker in the college lecture series Friday.

The author of "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy", he will discuss the topic, "Problems of American Foreign Policy", at 8:15 p.m. at the Grand Theatre.

Explosion Near Sect Village Reported

NELSON, B.C. (AP)—Dynamite damaged a railroad bridge near a communal village of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors religious sect near here Sunday.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police said about 30 sticks of dynamite blew a four-foot chunk from a supporting pier of the bridge and ripped up a section of track. A crude timing device was found.

The Sons of Freedom and British Columbia officials have been at odds for years. Doukhobors have accused police of oppressing them, and police charged the Freedomites with lawlessness.

'Operation Cheer Up' was conducted Sunday by Holy Name men of St. Mary Catholic Church following the communion breakfast. Holy Name members called on approximately 80 shut-ins of the parish at their homes and in hospitals. Above, Richard Luka, left, 109 Appleton St., Menasha, was visited by Leonard Mottard and Ernest Koerner, right.

Pre-Packaged Paper Clothes Predicted

NEENAH — A world in which there will be no need for a family to pack suitcases for a two-week camping trip — they'll simply take along pre-packaged paper clothes and toss them away afterward" is visualized by John R. Kimberly, board chairman of Kimberly-Clark Corp.

Cheap but attractive paper fabrics that would be thrown away when dirty are being developed by Kimberly-Clark, Inc., a firm organized by Kimberly-Clark and J. P. Stevens and Co., a major textile producer.

Kimberly told the Wall Street Journal recently that the new firm is working on a disposable paper fabric to be produced on paper-making machines from a combination of cellulose wadding and synthetic fibers such as rayon or nylon. Cellulose wadding is a wood pulp product used in several types of papers.

Cost of the material, which can be printed in floral or other designs, is said to be one-fifth of that of conventional fabrics.

"We can make the material cheaply enough, but the cost of making garments with the material is not low enough yet to justify manufacturing a full line of clothing with it," Kimberly declared.

The costly steps are cutting, sewing and making buttonholes. New techniques, such as joining seams with heat or adhesives, are now being tested by Kimberly-Stevens.

"We think there's a real potential for this material," he continued, showing his interviewer a smartly styled floral print dress.

"It could be the answer for the woman who likes a rapid turnover

Yuletide Plans For Mental Patients Set

NEENAH — The spirit of Christmas will shine more brightly at three county and state-operated institutions this year, thanks to the efforts of the Winnebago County Association for Mental Health.

Gifts are now being collected at "Operation Santa Claus" bins throughout the Twin Cities, for distribution to patients at Winnebago County Hospital and residents of Pleasant Acres, county home for the retired.

Each hospital patient and resident of Pleasant Acres will receive three individually-wrapped gifts, according to Mrs. Thomas C. Catlin, volunteer recruitment chairman.

Seven Twin City high school girls are helping wrap gifts during their spare time, Mrs. Catlin said. The gifts will be delivered to the hospital and county home the afternoon of Saturday, Dec. 23.

Acting as Santas will be Mrs. Anna Kabke and another member of the Pleasant Acres staff.

A group of volunteers from the county Mental Health Association will drive to Waupun Tuesday to decorate the gymnasium of Central State Hospital and give out yuletide trimmings for the various wards.

Christmas activities at Central State will be climaxed Monday night, Dec. 18, with an "all-hospital" party for between 275 and 300 patients. Entertainment will be staged by volunteer performers recruited by the mental health group.

TCNR Executive To Address Kiwanis

NEENAH — Kenneth L. Davis, general manager of the Twin City News-Record, will be guest speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Neenah Kiwanis club at Valley Inn. William Laville is program chairman.

Five Major Problems Seen For Africans

Third Lecture in Series Given at Lawrence College

Africa's development as a nation will not be along European lines, Northwestern University Professor Melville Herskovits said Sunday night at Lawrence College.

The African nation will develop a form of government unique in the world after the country solves five basic problems.

Herskovits ends his four part lecture series tonight when he discusses African influences on the American Negro.

Problems Listed
The problems of internal politics, the age-old chief system, the form of government to follow, creating loyal opposition, the trained people, are the internal problems outlined by Herskovits. Africa has been divided by foreign governments along undetermined borders which have never taken into consideration the geography or the people living in the divisions. In many cases, tribes are split by a political line and forced to follow entirely different forms of government.

"If Africa is to become a world power, it must be welded into one group," said Herskovits.

Chiefs Rulers
Chiefs have ruled in Africa since the beginning of time. Under the French, the chiefs assumed more or less a religious role, but under the British they were the indirect rulers of the nation. These ruling individuals must be considered when the nation determines future rulers.

Africa has been a socialist government and has borrowed from both Russia and China, Herskovits said. This does not mean the Africans prefer to follow a communistic line, but merely marvel at the economic progress of these two countries under a strict government.

"Africa has the problem of making a great many people do things," Herskovits said, "and like it or not, we have to recognize the Marxist manner of this progress."

No Opposition
In Africa's past, there has never been a form of "loyal opposition" said Herskovits, with the power in rule often opposed forcefully until he no longer is ruler.

"This feeling must be overcome before Africa is to make any progress," said Herskovits.

"Africa must train her own people to become leaders in the country's education," the professor said. "She has borrowed educators from countries all over the world."

Former Neenah Thorp Manager Heads District

NEENAH — Daniel O'Leary, Jr., formerly in charge of activities of the Thorp Finance Corp. in the Madison district, has been transferred to Neenah, Francis J. Conway, Thorp president, announced today.

O'Leary, who previously served as branch manager of the Neenah office, will supervise offices in Baraboo, Beaver Dam, Hartford, Jefferson, Plymouth, Port Washington, Ripon, Two Rivers, White-water and Neenah.

He replaces Donald M. Lautenschlager, who has been recalled to active duty with the National Guard at Camp Polk, La.

O'Leary has also worked in Thorp Finance offices in Wausau and Madison. He is married and the father of five children.

Wisconsin Telephone Honors Employee With 25 Years of Service

William B. Beyer, 514 North Union St., was honored by the Wisconsin Telephone Co. on the 25th anniversary of his start with the company. Beyer is a staff supervisor in charge of markets at Appleton.

In recognition of his 25 years of service, the telephone company presented Beyer with a diamond service emblem. The presentation was made by George Howden, division commercial engineer for the company.

Beyer began his telephone work with New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. in 1936. He came to Wisconsin in 1947. After a number of plant and commercial assignments in Fond du Lac and Appleton, he received his present position in 1960.

Beyer attended Rutgers University and served with the Air Force in the South Pacific during World War II. He is a member of the Fox Valley Council of the Telephone Pioneers of America, an organization of men and women who have been engaged in telephone work for 21 years.

Xavier Plans Hop

Xavier High School will hold its first post-basketball game soc hop Saturday in the Xavier gym. The dance will follow the St. John Little Chute-Xavier league game. All Xavier and St. John students are invited to attend.

Her trained people have gone into government work, and have made business and universities suffer the losses.

"In many sections of Africa," Herskovits said, "all the school buildings must yet be built. It would take 70 per cent of the people's income in Nigeria to get the school children through the first three grades."

Republican Club Requests More Election Worker Pay

MENASHA — Election board chairman of activities, as clerks and workers should receive more money for their services, the Menasha Republican Club executive committee decided Sunday. It approved sending a letter to the city administration asking more pay for the workers who are on duty 14 to 16 hours each election day and receive $18 and $17.50 a day each for chief and subordinate workers respectively.

Executive committee chairman Ted Neely appointed Kenneth

Superintendent Hopes Building Plans Will Hike School Interest

WINNECONNE — The school building program for the Winneconne Community School District is "getting into high gear in an attempt to revive more interest in it," Superintendent of Schools Arthur Lehman says.

A referendum on a $650,000 bond issue to add 23 rooms at the Winneconne School and a kindergarten room at Winchester was defeated 772 to 350 last June. Only about 35 per cent of the eligible voters cast ballots at that referendum.

Alert Defense Paces Detroit To 13-7 Victory

'Night Train' Lane Sets Up 10 Points As Lions Nip Vikings

BY JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP)—The defensive alert Detroit Lions, with Dick (Night Train) Lane setting up their first 10 points with a blocked kick and pass interception, battered out a 13-7 National Football League victory over the Minnesota Vikings today.

Jim Martin booted late field goals for the victory margin that just about clinched second place in the league's Western Division for the Lions.

Two fumble recoveries—one in the final five minutes that stopped a Viking drive at the Detroit 12—killed off Minnesota's chances for an upset before 42,655 at Tiger Stadium.

Lane, a veteran of 10 NFL seasons, blocked Mike Mercer's field goal attempt and the Lions turned it into a touchdown just 11 seconds before the half.

After the Vikings had tied the score in the third quarter, Lane intercepted a Fran Tarkenton pass and returned it 32 yards to the Minnesota 40. Martin booted a 43-yard field goal that sent Detroit ahead to stay.

Dick Le Beau shared defensive laurels with Lane by halting two Viking threats in the final five minutes.

Le Beau recovered a Tarkenton fumble at the Detroit 12 and minutes later out-jostled Jerry Reichow in the end zone after the Vikings had reached the 17.

Jim Ninowski, who replaced starter Earl Morrill early in the second quarter, accounted for what little offense the Lions showed.

After Lane's block of the field goal, Ninowski passed 55 yards to Gail Cogdill to the Viking 12. On the next play, Ninowski flooded the left side with receivers, faked a pass, and circled right end without a Viking near him for the

Passes by Conerly Help Giants Clinch Eastern Title Tie

Veteran Sparks Aerial Duel Against Eagles in 28-24 Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Old went to the end run with Alexman Charlie Conerly did it again. Webster earlier than we planned. That was the story of New York's 28-24 victory over Philadelphia Sunday that clinched at least a tie for the Eastern Conference to give Charlie plenty of credit. I title in the National Football League hadn't been playing him too much. One more Giant victory lately but he kept himself sharp in next Sunday's regular season in practice. You know those two finale with Cleveland will set up fellows (Conerly and Tittle) pal a Dec. 31 championship game be-around together. It is a credit to between New York and the Green both of them that they don't eat Bay Packers, who beat them a each other out."

Conerly sat on the bench, observing with coach Allie Sherman. Sherman, a likely winner in his rookie year, was asked about the effect of the defeat by Green Bay. "The boys felt bad about that," he said. "I could tell at Wednesday's practice. They were so had taken the 40-year-old Conerly's starting job from him, was had 22 perfect practices in a row they were confusing Tittle with their ever-changing jitter-bugging on defense."

Conerly took over and threw three touchdown passes to lead the Giants to victory. "Conerly established," said coach Sherman, who uses words like "establish" as a synonym for "moving the ball club."

"I didn't want my quarterback to get nervous and jerky," said Sherman. "Not that Tittle was getting nervous. But Charlie was to establish. They were jumping around on defense so Charlie

Bears Rally to Smash Browns' Hope for Title

Chicago Scoreless Until Final Period, Pulls Out 17-14 Win

BY JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears dashed Cleveland's title hopes Sunday with a 17-14 victory in which they packed all their scoring in the final quarter.

The Bears turned a Cleveland fumble into a nine-yard field goal by Roger Leclerc with 3:30 left to play and snapped a 14-14 tie to score for their first victory over the Browns in four league meetings.

The outcome assured New York at least a tie for the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League. Had Cleveland won, the Browns could have tied

AP Wirephoto

Lou Groza, of the Cleveland Browns, broke the National Football League scoring record with two point-after-touchdown kicks Sunday against the Chicago Bears. He has a career total of 826, one more than the record set by Don Hutson, of the Green Bay Packers.

"Andy was magnificent," said Sherman. "No tackle alive could have stopped him today." (Robustelli was playing against Jim McCusker.)

Nick Skorich, also a rookie coach of the Eagles, said he felt the difference in the game was the penalties. The Eagles had three pass interference calls against them, a roughing the kicker penalty and an offside penalty that hurt because Philadelphia had intercepted a pass on the play.

The roughing of the kicker by Leo Sugging happened with about 6 1/2 minutes to go and the Giants in a fourth and 6 situation on their own 24. Instead of the Eagles taking over on their own 41, the penalty left New York in control of the ball and the Giants marched to their final touchdown.

"The officials do their best but whether we deserved some of the calls is questionable to me. The films will show. On the roughing penalty, Don Chandler, the punter.

49ers Edge Packers, 22-21, On Last-Minute Field Goal

Bays Thwarted by Counter Rally After Overcoming 14-0 Deficit

AND FOR DAVIS THIS WAS A big moment. He had never forgotten his near miss of a 37-yard field goal that would have robbed the Packers of a 21-20 win in Green Bay in '59. Tommy was a freshman and scared that day. He appeared cool and collected this time. The Packers still have a good-looking 10-3 record today and they hope to roll an "11" in the regulation win in Los Angeles next Sunday. They'll battle the eastern champs for sure on Dec. 31 in Green Bay since events Sunday in that division eliminated the possibility of a delayed playoff.

Somehow the Packers' loss of personnel to Uncle Sam's Army and injuries, resulting also in a weakness in the platoons, caught up with Green Bay Sunday.

Paul Hornung appeared to have lost more, besides missing a 34-yard field goal that might have made the difference. And Woodson's long run back reflected the Packers' run-back problem.

In addition, the Packers ran into a blazing hot John Brodie who denied Packer defenses for 328 yards passing, including two touchdowns. He completed 19 out of 29 throws to set a 49er record with 11.31 yards per pass attempt.

Four-end Offense Brodie, passing out of the four-end offense with one back behind him hurled TD passes of 51 yards to Bernie Casey and 10 yards to R. C. Owens for a 14-0 lead in the second quarter and set up a nine-yard field goal by Davis with a series of short throws for a 19-14 lead in the fourth quarter. And his pitching provided closeness for Davis' second and game-winning FG.

Owens, the alley oop guy who is supposedly playing out his option to take a 21 to 19 lead with two minutes and 12 seconds left in the game.

Turning Point Then came the turning point. Abe Woodson took the ensuing kickoff back 50 yards to the Packer 45: John Brodie, hot all afternoon with his passing, completed two passes for 32 yards, let the clock run down with three runs and finally held the ball while Tommy Davis booted a 14-yard field goal to win with just 11 seconds left.

Lombardi Lauds 49ers' Play, Declares That Bays Weren't Loafing

Woodson's Long Kickoff Return Called Crucial

Post-Crescent News Service

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Packers aren't out here on a vacation. They showed it by their hard-nosed performance against the 49ers Sunday and Coach Vince Lombardi emphasized it for the benefit of scribes in a tiny corner of the visiting team's tiny dressing room.

"We played hard and nobody was loafing," he stated in answer to a question concerning the Packers' manner of play.

And from the nearby home dressing quarters, 49er Coach Red Hickey threw up his hands and whistled. "They're the same Packers. When they had to go out and take a lead they just came down the field. We couldn't do anything about it. I'm thankful they didn't have time after the field goal," Red beamed.

Compliments 49ers Lombardi complimented the 49ers for "playing a stubborn, determined game against us. We might have pulled it out except that Woodson's kickoff return put them in position for the field goal."

Noting the 49ers' 328 yards passing, the Packer coach pointed out that San Francisco's 4-end offense wasn't especially new—"we saw it against Detroit, Los Angeles, and New York," and added:

"Did you notice those fantastic passes, you can't ascribe those to the formation. That is individual genius."

Hickey pointed out that one of his team's long suits helped win the game. "We've always been good on runbacks, and I believe we either lead the league or are right up there every year. We had a good chance with Woodson's return and got it turned into a winning point."

"When we got down there we decided to gamble on the clock and Davis making the kick. He almost missed it, and if it would have been 30 yards, he would have missed it," the 49er coach said.

Davis was a most happy individual. Reminded of his miss in '59 in Green Bay when he was a rookie and the two teams were unbeaten, Davis allowed that "maybe things do even themselves. That (miss) bothered me for a long time." The Bays were in front, 21-20, when he missed a 37-yarder.

Davis admitted that he was a bit lucky Sunday. "It was in there by only this much," indicating about two feet, adding: "I was trying to get under it and kicked it to the right. That big guy was

Layne Tosses Four TD Passes Against 'Skins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Veteran on a 30-yard toss to Dial before Bobby Layne tossed for four touchdowns Sunday as he led the Redskins tied the score with 36 seconds left in the half on the Snead's touchdown toss. But Layne quickly moved the Steelers within range on two passes and Lou Michaels kicked a 42-yard field goal with four seconds left.

Layne broke the game open in the third quarter. First he caught the Redskins asleep on quick pass to Carpenter for a 40-yard touchdown. Then he moved the Steelers 96 yards for their third touchdowns. John Henry Johnston set 40-yard play, and Buddy Dial on a 5-yarder.

Fred Dugan set a Washington season record for pass catching with 24 seconds left after a pass with six for a total of 50. Pittsburgh scored both Redskins touchdowns, ball deep in Redskin territory. On one came on a 9-yard toss from the third play. Layne passed 5 yards to Dial in the end zone. On 11-yard heave from George Izo.

Cardinals Rally To Down Dallas

Etcheverry's Passing, Crow's Running Paces 31-13 Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals spotted Dallas 13 points then regrouped on Sam Etcheverry's two touchdown passes and John David Crow's running for a 31-13 National Football League victory Sunday.

Dallas scored the first three times it got the ball—the first two on a pair of 29-yard field goals by Dick Bierski. Then came a 52-yard scoring drive, almost all of it on the ground, as the Dallas line opened big holes for hard-running Don Perkins, who finally went over from the 2.

The Cards had only one first down before the 57-yard, 11-play scoring drive just before the half which ended with Etcheverry's 10-yard jump over the middle pass to Crow.

The TD came with only 45 seconds left in the half.

Drive Stalled

The Cowboys stalled the first Card drive of the second half but Gerry Perry's field goal from the 16 cut the Dallas lead to 13-10.

Dallas then blew a big chance as quarterback Eddie LeBaron lost a fumble at the Cardinal 16, on the first play after Jerry Tubbs dashed 33 yards with a stolen Etcheverry pass.

Etcheverry sent a 78-yard pass to rookie end Taz Anderson and Crow's three-yard end sweep for the TD put St. Louis in front 17-13.

Two quick Cardinal touchdowns early in the fourth quarter sewed it up. The first one took two plays, Etcheverry throwing 29 yards to Crow, then 27 to Sonny Randle for the tally.

LeBaron was swarmed under on (the first play after the kickoff, fumbled and Frank Fuller recovered. Five plays later, Prentice Gautt fired 17 yards to Randle for the score.

Dallas, which gained 146 yards running and passing in the first half, was halted with a net loss of 20 yards in the second half. The Cards had only 54 yards total offense in the first half but rolled up 270 yards in the second.

Etcheverry, the one-time Canadian star, had his best day of the season with 13 pass completions in 25 attempts for 265 yards.

Lawrence's Bill Reeves captured second place in the 157-pound competition. He pinned Wisconsin's John Koller in 4:57, and defeated Al Bauman, of White-water (4-0), and Superior's Terry Cole (6-4), before losing to Wisconsin's Harvey Foss on a 3-2 decision in the finals.

"Hap" Sumner won fourth place in the 123-pound class for the Vikes by defeating Tod Wise, of Stevens Point (2-1), and Whitewater's Jim Spataro (7-0) before dropping a 5-3 decision to Dick Farrell, of Marquette. (Farrell eventually finished second in the 123-pound division.)

Lawrence's Jim Eastman beat Whitewater's Terry Kranz (7-2) but lost to Stevens Point's Kip Pagel in a third-place match (3-0).

Opening Match

Lawrence's Dick Meyers lost his opening match in the 130-pound category to Wisconsin's Neil Leitner, who went on to win the championship of the division. Francisco ended in a tie for first.

Joe Lubenow, the Lawrence 137-pound representative, lost to Pete Berger, of LaCrosse, in the first round. The Vikes had no sweepstakes in the 147-pound competition when Dick Kauffman came up with a knee injury.

The Vikes' Pete Thomas lost a first-round decision to Bob Tucker, of LaCrosse (4-2), and Paul Chromahecke lost to Marquette's Norm Merz on a pin in 3:38.

a pass to Angelo Coia which covered 64 yards for the game-tying touchdown.

Coia took the ball on about the Browns' 30 and went untouched for the score.

Putting on a heavy rush against quarterback Milt Plum, the Bears gained possession of a Plum fumble on the 20, and their drive sputtered on the one-yard line. Leclerc then booted the winning field goal.

The Browns put on a last gasp rally after recovering a Bear fumble and on the final play of the game with the ball on the Bear 44, Plum hit Bobby Mitchell with a short pass and Mitchell cut in, out and around, but finally was knocked out of bounds as the final gun went off.

Cleveland's first touchdown came on a screen pass from Plum to fullback Jimmy Brown, who shook off several would be tacklers and raced 77 yards for the score.

Cleveland's ensuing kickoff was fumbled by Charlie Bivins and the Browns recovered on the Bear 38. Five plays later, Plum passed 13 yards to Bob Crespino for the Browns' final touchdown.

Veteran Lou Groza booted both Cleveland extra points giving him a National Football League total of 826 points.

Road Expert Seeks 1-Way Route System

He Feels Distance Between Highways Avoids Accidents

BY BEN PHLEGAR Associated Press Automotive

DETROIT (AP) — Most cities use one-way streets to speed the flow of traffic with safety.

Accidents Reduced

Stonex notes the design policy of the new interstate highway system under construction provides in most cases for a minimum of 36 feet between opposing lanes of traffic, a distance he considers wholly inadequate.

Stonex has other strong convictions about highway design. One concerns the need for gently sloping roadways free of obstacles, ditches and trees.

The game could have been costly since wily Max McGee suffered a rib injury while catching his second TD pass.

Moore Fires Pass

The Packers were explosive. After it was 14-0, Starr drove the club 82 yards in four plays, with Tom Moore throwing to McGee for the TD. They moved 37 yards in six plays for the second TD, with Starr throwing to McGee.

Then, for the "winning" TD, the Packers ripped 73 yards in 10 plays with Jim Taylor slamming over from four yards out.

Green Bay quieted the 49ers down to 63 yard rushing, an average of 2.52 per try, but their aerial figure was almost unbelievable. The Packers piled up 330 yards, including 153 by rushing.

Willie Wood gave the Bays one TD and set up Hornung's missed FG by recovering two fumbles.

The 49ers threatened right after the opening kickoff thanks to Brodie's 48-yard pass to Casey Ford College. Independent St. Norbert was beaten 91-87 Sunday by St. Ambrose in a game at Davenport, Iowa.

St. Ambrose used a full-court press in the second half to overcome an eight-point deficit in first period.

Carroll started hitting Owens' No. 30 points while Ron Bohls scored 28 for St. Ambrose, now 1-0.

4 Per Cent Interest Regulation Will Aid Thrift-Minded Savers

Savings Associations May Get Keener Competition From Commercial Banks

BY RICHARD H. HOENIG

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 100 million thrift-minded Americans eventually may find more money in their savings accounts—just by sitting back and waiting. This will be the result of recent changes in an administrative rule most people weren't aware even existed.

The rule is Regulation "Q" of the Federal Reserve Board and the change will permit most of the nation's commercial banks to pay up to 4 per cent interest on savings left in the bank over a year and 3½ on savings left in for less than six months. Until Jan. 1 the limit is 3 per cent.

Different Types
Not all of the estimated 110 million depositors in various savings institutions will benefit immediately. But starting next month a small number scattered from New York to California will begin earning more on the dollars they save. The number is expected to swell as months pass.

Most savings dollars are held by three different types of financial institutions. They are commercial banks, savings and loan associations and savings banks.

Commercial banks are corporations owned by stockholders and can be distinguished by the checking services they offer. They pay interest to savings account holders.

Savings and loan associations are mutual cooperative share account institutions which pay interest-dividends to account holders.

Savings banks have no stockholders, are managed by trustees or directors and distribute all earnings to depositors in interest.

Permit Competition
The latter two institutions pay more interest—as dividends—than commercial banks. One purpose of the new regulation change was to permit banks to compete better for the privilege of keeping the public's money, and making it earn its keep.

Just a week after the Federal Reserve and Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. raised the maximum interest rate permitted, a score of banks in 14 states had announced higher rates. They include Chase Manhattan of New York City, second largest bank in the country.

Savings and loan officials everywhere began considering counter-measures at once. One of the largest in Missouri, Community Federal Savings & Loan Association of St. Ann, jumped its dividend to 4.5 per cent from 4.25.

Saver Benefits
About the only winner in this looming fight of war is likely to be the saver.

For over a decade, banks and savings and loans firms have been battling for savings dollars because these deposits are the basis for all their lending and other activities. The savings and loans have had the best of it since their dividends aren't regulated by anyone.

Since 1957 commercial banks, the type that also offer checking services, have been limited by Regulation Q to paying 3 per cent on savings.

Cautious Attitude
Since 1945 savings and loan growth has been about six times as great as that of the commercial banks.

Nevertheless a big majority of banks indicated a cautious attitude toward raising their interest rates. Some experts thought it would be a while before the in-creases filtered down to smaller communities, away from financial centers where competition is keenest.

Manpower High When Japs Struck

U. S. Had Built Army In Anticipating War

BY ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — If you just count men, ships and guns, the U.S. military isn't much bigger now than when war came 20 years ago at Pearl Harbor. Actually, the Army then had more men and more divisions. The size of the combat fleet then and now is not drastically different. But there are differences—big ones. The total firepower of today's men under arms is thousands of times greater by reason of nuclear weapons. What did the U.S. armed forces have when the Japanese hit Pearl Harbor and the Philippines 20 years ago and what do they have now?

In round numbers, the manpower then was 2,060,000; today it is 2,800,000.

The Army had 1,640,000 men, building more ships and planes as the battle raged in Europe.

In those days, the Army's artillery was built around such ordnance as the 155 millimeter howitzer, the eight-inch howitzer and 240 millimeter howitzer, firing, of course, conventional ammunition at conventional battlefield ranges.

Today, the Army's ordnance includes a family of missiles using atomic warheads, with ranges of up to 200 miles.

In the Navy, the battleship was queen. Her 16-inch guns could lob a shell up to 20 miles. The eight carriers in the fleet were rated second in the category of capital ships—until the Pacific campaigns quickly proved their major value in air strikes on enemy warships and land targets.

Today, carriers and ballistic missile submarines are prime. Both deliver nuclear weapons. Polaris submarines can put nuclear devices equal to 16 million tons of TNT on targets more than 1,500 miles away.

Bomb Power Up
The biggest operational plane of the Army Air Force was the B17. It could carry a five-ton load, had a range of 2,250 miles.

Today's B52 has a range of more than 10,000 miles, and aerial refueling can extend that by thousands of miles.

The B52 reportedly can carry two 20 megaton nuclear bombs. The total explosive force of a thermonuclear bomb exceeds that of all "iron" bombs dropped by the belligerents of World War II. The blast destruction area of a 20 megaton bomb is measured in miles. The "block-buster" bombs of World War II spread destruction hundreds of feet.

Today's military man has the intercontinental ballistic missile

Accidents in County Keep Police Busy

Driving Saturday was something like going onto the skating rink for the first time of the season with dull skates.

On roads slick with snow, motorists rusty on winter driving became involved in 17 accidents in Outagamie County Saturday.

Seven were in Appleton and one was in Little Chute. The rest were on county, state and federal routes. Only one person was hospitalized.

Ralph J. Greenwalt, 17, son of Robert J. Greenwalt, 1504 W. Franklin St., stayed at Appleton Memorial Hospital Saturday night for observation after the car he was driving became involved in a two-car crash in Appleton at 4:27 p.m.

The car Greenwalt was in was going south on Gillette Street and collided with one driven west on Spring Street by Joseetta H. Wittman, 121 E. Florida Ave. Greenwalt's car skidded 45 feet, hit a tree, then skidded 123 feet and stopped on the lawn at 1018 Gillette St.

Other crashes were spread over the entire day. There was one four-car crash at the corner of Mason Street and U.S. 41 in the morning in which the four autos, all headed the same way, piled into each other in a chain reaction.

Four accidents were reported to Outagamie County police between 11:16 a.m. and 11:43 a.m. and all cars were tied up.

and its smaller brothers. It would take only 30 minutes for a rocket to travel from the Soviet Union to the United States—or the other way around.

Radar was in its infancy when Japan launched her carrier-based strike at Pearl Harbor. Ordnance was optically aimed. Today, radar is basic to even small field artillery and mortar fire. And the United States relies on radar for the few minutes possible warning of ICBM attack.

But many of the weapons used today are like those in the hands of fighting men when this country entered World War II. Only in recent months has the Army begun to receive the M14 rifle, to replace weapons used 20 years ago and earlier.

Syngman Rhee May Return To Homeland

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Aged Syngman Rhee is expected to return home without facing arrest or criminal charges by the revolutionary government.

Gen. Chung Il-sang, chairman of the ruling military junta, said recently that he would not stop the 86-year-old ex-president if he wishes to spend the rest of his life in Korea. The one-time strongman of Korea was ousted after a 12-year rule by the students-led April revolution last year.

Engaged in Rackets

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Bela Huzska, a 46-year-old book-keeper, has drawn a six-year prison term for a romantic racket. A Budapest court convicted him Thursday on testimony he became engaged to 25 women in succession and coaxed sums totaling $50,000 from them on the understanding that he would buy an apartment.
